

How do I make Disciples

Learn → Live → Share

Who – Me?

- There are two realities that you will need to understand:
 1. You will never be perfect – you will always make some form of mistake. God is not looking for perfect people. God wants faithful people who will honestly represent the kingdom in spirit and truth.
 2. You will never feel ready – when you consider the task of investing in someone to see them become a Disciple maker you will question your readiness. God will do the work through you. Learn to focus on being willing to give God everything you have and be willing to learn more as you recognize that there is so much that you will receive as you invest in others.

Making Disciples

- Making Disciples requires patience and self-reflection. One of the key components in making Disciples is our willingness to remember how we were developed. How we did not listen and how we struggled with things that now are second nature. Don't forget your journey to this point of being a Disciple who makes Disciples.
- Always offer love before anything else. Yeshua paid for the sin so don't be too harsh in times of failure. Even in correction make sure that people know they are loved. Never put your feelings before the teachings of Yeshua. In order to make Disciples you must be willing to live the teachings before you share them.

You are a Disciple too

- Don't forget that you are still in process. You have matured and your transformation has been great, but you are still a Disciple.
- Stay connected with your spiritual leader and those who helped you to develop. Allow them to help you as you invest in others. Never walk this journey alone. God wants you to benefit from your community of Disciples as you make Disciples.

Learn, Live and Share

- Follow the same process that was invested in you. Teach them to obey the teachings of Yeshua. Encourage them through the struggles of living these teachings. Then motivate them to invest in others to help them become Disciples.
- This is the cycle that has impacted humankind since Yeshua impacted the world. Be a Disciple as you make Disciples.

We are here for you

- At every point of your development and even as you invest in others to become Disciples we are here for you.
- Contact us with your success and failure so that we all can learn and grow from other experiences.
- Email us at ChurchTransformed@BlessedHarvest.org.