

About Dana Watson

Connections Director

Dana left her career as a Registered Nurse to be a ~~stay-at-home mom~~ Chaos Coordinator in 2013. She has served as one of the worship leaders at Trinity for 10 years and officially joined the Trinity staff as Connections Director in 2020.

Dana currently resides in South Lyon with her husband Allan and two children, Aurora and Monroe. She loves super nerdy board games, scary movies, walks in the woods, hilarious memes and the first scoop of peanut butter out of the jar!

Favorite quote: "But a motherless church is as tragic as a motherless home. Guiding the spiritually young to maturity is not solely the job of the vocational pastor, the elder or the Sunday school teacher. The church needs mothers to care for the family of God." - Jen Wilkin
