

About Mark Fuller

Lead Pastor

Mark has been lead pastor at Trinity since 2010, leading our church to be more engaged with our community and with the city of Detroit. You'll often find Mark serving people at the Food Pantry, tutoring kids in Detroit, or sharing life with the people of Trinity!

Mark followed God's call into pastoral ministry when he was vice president of a growing software company in Ann Arbor (ask him to tell you the story!) and he's never looked back. He loves to learn, as evidenced by his current studies in the Doctor of Ministry program at Denver Seminary, adding to his Master of Divinity from Denver Seminary, Master's in Engineering Management, and Bachelor's in Electrical Engineering.

Mark loves people, making the Bible and theology accessible to others, and fostering an attitude of discovery and wonder at Trinity. He roots unapologetically for Maize & Blue football, loves to bike and play tennis, and shares three grown kids with his sweet wife Denise!
