DIRECTIONS:

- With small flat screwdriver, choose three 'spokes' as guide to poke a small Hole, where the sloped wall starts at the lip.
- From the top, push the thin end of a zip tie thru each slot, with shiny side out/up.

- Tape the end of each zip tie as shown.
- Now the tricky part: With zipper side facing out, thread a fourth zip tie down through the notch end of middle one first, then the other two (It should look like the close-up picture here – if you feel it 'zip' you did the wrong side – it should pull smooth.)
- Poke your last hole through the spoke guide across from the middle tie, then push the connector tie through hole and pull to where you want your 'shelter' frame to be.
- Tape on back side like before and cut off leftover tie along pan bottom.
- Go have some pizza as reward! (optional)

- To begin decoration, take white glue and squeeze out onto the pan bottom – I did a tight spiral pattern and it covered well.
- Cut open the pebble pack and start to shake pebbles into pan bottom, until you can't see silver pan.
- Carefully tilt pan and tap it on the table – add more glue where silver is seen, and cover with more pebbles till whole bottom covered. It will stick better as it dries.

- Now your hut needs some furniture, etc. You can make from anything small (even Legos if you want?) I will use the items here:

- The final part is adding 'shelter' to the zip tie frame. You can use real leaves, or fat grass, or hula skirt grass...something green is nice. You can glue it, just let dry.

There is no place like Hut...

But HEAVEN is better! Read Psalm 73:25
