

Dear Friends,

Greetings from Brazil in the wonderful Name of the Lord Jesus. We pray that you are well in Him. Thank you for being part of our ministry here.

Family news: Praise God, Jac had a wonderful six week experience at the WEC base. This was her third and final requirement for her online education course (WEC recognized as an NGO). She also took her last test and passed so she is officially graduated. It was kind of anticlimactic being an online course, but the university plans to have a ceremony for the graduates next semester, if possible.

Marta continues her post-grad studies. Since the possibility of a position in a public school is very bleak, she is looking for a reasonable place to rent for her and Jac to tutor students who need help with their studies. With this pandemic the students have not gone back to school, so online students will need help. Marta and Jac are both gifted in this area and want to use their abilities to glorify the Lord and help others.

Richard (me) has been giving English lessons at our base and visiting Cidade Refugio. I also preached at an English service at a big Presbyterian Church this past month.

This weekend fifteen of us from our base are going outside the city for a time of fellowship, year review, and planning for the coming year. There is a lake on the property so some of us are looking forward to fishing also.

Yesterday was Thanksgiving. It is a worthy holiday celebrated in the USA, but not here in Brazil. Sadly, many don't know the true meaning of Thanksgiving; being grateful to God for His faithfulness and goodness. Today is the big shopping day here and in the USA. It seems like half the people are running after a bigger TV (in the midst of a pandemic). Instead of being obsessed with material things, may our hearts be filled with the joy of knowing Christ.

In Christ,

Rich, Marta, and Jacqueline Hoadley
