

DAILY JOURNEY

WEEK 1 | DAY 2

Ephesians 5:20-21

And give thanks for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. And further, submit to one another out of reverence for Christ.

No matter what your relationship status is—married, single, widowed, divorced—how you love others is a signpost for what it's like to be in a relationship with God.

If your earthly relationship with a former spouse is over, there's grace and hope for second chances. If you and your spouse aren't getting along, God wants you to fight for each other, not against. If you're not married and you want to be, God wants you to prepare yourself and grow in Christ-like character. If you're married and you're in the grind of daily life, God wants you to stay engaged, to fight for your family, and not give each other the leftovers.

APPLICATION:

As you go throughout your day, ask yourself: who is getting the very best of me?

How can you stay engaged, remain present, and submit to one another out of reverence for Christ?

PRAYER:

God, Thanks for who you are. I want to live my life as a response to your love...
