Dear Friend,

Are you ready for Thanksgiving Day and weekend? Ready or not, here it is - and we have SO much to be thankful for!

Please allow me to share with you this list of 1,047 Things I'm Thankful For this year:

1. Always, always, always first by a mile: The Lord Jesus Christ and His Love and salvation. Thank You, Lord!
2. You - the wonderful WFRN Family. Thank you for continuing to pray and give to the vision for the WFRN Friends & Family Gathering Place. Every gift from you brings us a step closer - and we can't wait to celebrate our Lord and Savior there with you in the future!

3. My youngest son, Luke, surprising me last night during bedtime prayers by giving thanks to God for Luke 2:8-12, and then saying it. :-)

4. The fact that our good God knew every detail of 2020, down to the last detail, 2,020 years ago. And 2 million years ago. And that the same thing is true for 2022! :-)

5. Okay, I was kidding about 1,047 items in this list - but that's four! And here's a fifth: I'm thankful for the truth that God shows us in Genesis 50:20 - that what others intended for evil, God actually *intended for our good (for all those who love Him, as He says in Romans 8:28).

We are so thankful to have spent this year with you. We're excited about the Christmas season ahead with you & the WFRN Family - and what God has in store for 2022.

*Oh Father, please bind Your Word to our hearts, and our feet to Your path.
We thank You for 2021, and we trust You for 2022.*

In Christ Jesus, our only hope - but what a hope! :-)
Happy Thanksgiving,
Doug

It's easy this time of year to get wrapped up in turkeys, and hosting dinners, and visiting family...

But don't forget the Biblical command (found throughout the Bible) to Give Thanks!

Take a moment amid the busyness to Thank God for something today!

Happy Thanksgiving,
From Your Friend of the Family

"Tremble" by Lauren Daigle

was this weeks New Music Monday, and we are playing it on repeat! Raise your hands and praise along!

"I will tremble at no other name
My heart's surrendered to no other reign
I will bow at no other throne
And rest my heart at no other home!"
