New NMC Small Groups are signing up NOW!

If you didn't have an opportunity to sign up in the fall, now is the time to jump in! New Small Groups will meet beginning the week of January 31.

We greatly value spiritual community and connectedness as we seek to become fully committed disciples together. We believe that Small Groups are a key avenue to accomplishing this mission. Below are answers to questions you may have and clarifications that will hopefully enable you to decide if joining a Small Group should be the next step for you.

Why should I consider being a part of a Small Group?

We believe Small Groups to be an incredibly helpful avenue for discipleship, community, and multiplication—all of which are commanded in Scripture.

Where will Small Groups meet and what is their purpose?

Most Small Groups will meet in a home setting, hosted by a member of the group. However, we also offer options to meet at the church on Sunday mornings at 11:00 AM or Wednesday evenings at 6:45 PM. As the weeks go on, we hope for five things to be accomplished: play, story, discovery, prayer, and service. When used in the context of a Small Group, each of these principles allows us to work toward the goal of becoming fully committed disciples.

How do I become a part of a Small Group?

If you are interested in joining or leading a Small Group, go to nmc.church/JoinSmallGroups to sign-up. Questions? Email Pastor Marty at MartyGraverson@nmc.church.

*Thank you for joining our mission

Show me where you spend your time and money, and I will show you what's most important to you. Where you leverage your resources announces your priorities. So, just where did Jesus spend time? What was truly important to Him? How did He use time to accomplish His mission? Where am I spending my time? What adjustments need to be made?
