REMINDER

Residents are reminded that Rose Hill is part of the Lee District Community Parking District which bans the parking of trailers, recreational vehicles, boats and oversized vehicles on our narrow streets. Violators will be ticketed by the police. Also, it is illegal to park on the grass portion of your front yard or store an inoperable or unlicensed vehicle in any part of your property that can be seen from any property line. Parking is illegal on the grass portion between the sidewalk and the road on Rose Hill Drive. Accumulation of trash, high grass or weeds, overcrowding, loud noise, violation of construction, electrical or mechanical safety codes all can result in fines or prosecution. No more than one small commercial vehicle, marked or unmarked, is allowed per household. Please respect your neighbors and community by adhering to the rules. RHCA is committed to making sure we continue to maintain our property values through an attractive and vibrant community.

President's Message

Another Development Proposal Will be Discussed Over Soup at January Rose Hill Meeting

Another development proposal has been proposed for Rose Hill. This one involves 12 new homes on the Kindercare property on May Boulevard. Claude Wheeler owns the 4.98 acres, including his home at 6318 May Boulevard. His preliminary plan for development was accepted by the County on December 8, 2010 and currently is under review.

The plan will be available for viewing at the Tuesday, January 25th meeting of the Rose Hill Civic Association beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the John Marshall Library. Members are encouraged to bring their favorite soup to share. RHCA will provide bread, drinks, spoons, bowls, cups and napkins. This event was a big hit last year. Come and have dinner with your neighbors. Also on the agenda is an update on the Rose Hill Reserve project.

Only a short time ago, RHCA supported a Special Application to continue the Kindercare operation at the site of the former recreation center and private school. The property is zoned R-3, the same as the rest of Rose Hill, so development as single family residential homes requires only site plan approval. Although there are no public hearings for this by right development, RHCA will seek answers to various questions as part of the approval process of the site plan. Given our experience with Rose Hill Reserve, soil conditions will be at the top of the list.

It should be noted that RHCA, as well as the Franconia Museum, is on record as favoring the preservation of the silos on the property as the last example of the area's agricultural heritage. The proposed plan does NOT preserve the silos. In fact, they are incorporated into two lots.

This preliminary plan is not the final approval for development of the property. If approved the plan sets the parameters for the County's evaluation of the site plan. RHCA will expect answers on various issues from the County before any approval is granted. And, given the experiences with soil in a part of Rose Hill Reserve, we start unconvinced that development of the entire Kindercare site is prudent.

It appears Rose Hill has become a favorite of the developers, so don't expect this to be the last plan we see this year. If you can see a wooded area from your window, there are no doubt developers lurking among the trees! Ditto for vacant lots, not to mention tear downs of existing structures for larger houses.

Rose Hill Reserve

Update: On Sunday, January 9, 2011, workmen were observed constructing a model home on the site. The approved conditions of development do NOT allow work on Sunday. The County has notified Stanley Martin Homes that future violations will result in a Stop Work Order for the entire project.

Stanley Martin Homes has moved from a land-preparation phase to a home construction phase as 2011 begins. All the major earth moving has been accomplished, utilities have been installed and the entrance road has been paved. Work on the actual houses has begun and at least one of the model homes to be built near the entrance on Wayside Drive off Rose Hill Drive is undergoing the finishing touches. RHCA already has complained about work on the actual houses taking place on Sunday. Additional homes will be built as lots are sold, so expect that the construction crews will be with us for at least several years. The total build out is 46 homes. Stanley Martin estimates that each home will take 45 days or less to complete if all goes well. Because of soil and environmental issues, special care will be necessary and different for each site. To recap, more than 250 caissons have been drilled deep in the ground on the perimeter of the site to protect both existing and future homes. In some areas, retaining walls have been constructed to further protect both the property and offsite lots. Additional plantings have been installed in areas of the buffer zone where vegetation was lacking. As Stanley Martin begins the construction phase, be prepared to see a larger work force on the site. RHCA has cautioned Stanley Martin and its contractors to remember they are working in the middle of an established community. We have discouraged parking by workers on our streets and reminded them that littering is illegal. Residents are requested to report any violations. Get the license plate number of any violators so both Stanley Martin and, if necessary, the police can correct the situation.

Holiday Lights

There were three new grand prize winners for outstanding light displays during the 2010 Christmas season. Well, two new ones and another who moved to a new location! Joining the list were the Kroetches at 4700 Flower Lane and the Mitchells at 6408 Cottonwood Drive. The Corbins at 4901 Split Rock are on the list as Steve took over the tradition his parents carried forth on Blossom Lane for many years. Mom still lives in the home place, but we suspect many of the decorations are now down on Split Rock!

Repeat grand prize winners were the Fulks at 6410 Cottonwood and their daughter at 6402 Cottonwood Drive, the Nguyens at 6512 Rose Hill Drive, the Valdez at 6304 May Boulevard and the James at 6412 May Boulevard. Also, the Daileys at 5009 Eastchester Circle, the McMinns at 4804 Apple Tree Drive and the Najazandehs at 6504 Telegraph Road.

Because of the snow, sleet and high wind, we may have missed some displays that were ruined by the weather. If so, let us know and we'll recognize them in the February Rambler. The weather also may have caused the judges to get some addresses wrong, so any corrections would be welcome. Overall, there were a number of excellent displays in Rose Hill and we hope all were recognized.

Membership Drive

Check out the list of members for 2011 on Page 4. If you're name isn't there, we've either made a mistake or you haven't sent in your membership form and payment. The dues are only $10 but we encourage contributions so we can keep on printing the Rambler. That is the biggest cost of the year and $10 dues doesn't cover the cost of nine annual issues. In addition to the Rambler, dues and contributions cover the cost of our Rose Hill Beauty program (you have to be a member to get a sign), dues for our membership in the Lee District Association, maintenance of our Virginia Corporation Commission status, support of several worthy causes and items for meetings and our annual Night Out program to show support for our first responders. We also ask for contributions to cover the cost of the four yearly plantings at our entrance sign at Rose Hill Drive and Franconia Road. Our expenses are minimal, thanks to the volunteers who deliver your Rambler, participate in the Neighborhood Watch and help provide snacks for our meetings. Not to mention our outstanding web site, myrosehill.com that is maintained by a former resident from his perch in the Rocky Mountains! Please join RHCA and help keep Rose Hill an outstanding community in which to live. For your convenience, a membership form is printed in this issue.

Civil War Programs

2011 is the One Hundred and Fiftieth anniversary of the start of the Civil War. The Franconia

Museum is planning two major programs this spring to start commemoration of the sesquicentennial of the war. First, the Museum will sponsor the sixth in the series of the Both Sides tour on Saturday, April 23, tracking the footsteps of Union and Confederate forces as they headed toward the first major clash at Manassas. On Saturday and Sunday, May 14-15, the Museum will sponsor a program titled Franconia in the Civil War at Lee District Park's Robert E. Lee Recreation Center. The program will feature information on nearby Union troop camps, Confederate Raids (including the one in Rose Hill), area houses, churches, farm life and Black History during the period. One feature will be a presentation on what people who lived here produced and ate with a sample to be provided. In addition, there will be Union and Confederate re-enactors and music provided by elementary school groups in the Franconia area.

Information about both events is available at myrosehill.com or franconiamuseum.org.

The Both Sides Tour will start at Fort Lyon, which today is the site of the Huntington Metro Station, and follow the route of Union General Heintzelman and his troops up what is now Franconia Road on his way to Manassas. After seeing the Union forces in place, the tour will head to Thoroughfare Gap to meet Confederate General Jackson and follow his footsteps to Manassas where he would meet General Beauregard and the rest of the southern army. After lunch, the tour will visit the visitor's center and hear a presentation about the battle. Make reservations for the tour by contacting Don Hakenson at dhakenson@cox.net or 703-971-4984.

This program is designed to inform local residents, especially students, about activity in their back yard during the Civil War. Youngsters 14 and under will be admitted FREE to encourage their participation. Ages 14-18 and seniors 62 and older will pay a one-time fee of $2.50. All others will be asked to contribute a one-time $5. The fee will cover both days.

The program will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 14 and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, May 15. Sunday's program will include an opening sermon by Confederate General D. H. Hill, portrayed by Douglas Batson, Gulf War veteran, historian and educator. Also expected to appear are Confederates Jeb Stuart and John Singleton Mosby. President Lincoln has been invited to reenact his visit to Fort Lyon to view the damage of a devastating ammunition explosion.

For information, contact Don Hakenson as listed above or Carl Sell at sellcarl@aol.com or 703-971-4716. As it will take a small army to bring this show to fruition, anyone wishing to volunteer to help will be greatly appreciated. RHCA will be involved with the distribution of free samples. We are looking for help in providing homemade corn bread to go along with the stew to be provided. Contact Linda Nichols at 703-971-0755 or dovefellow@aol.com. Help is also needed for planning, setup and tear down, ticket taking, etc. If you are a member of a group that would like to be involved in the event, tables can be rented for the two days. Commercial entities are charged $60 per table and two chairs for the two days and non-profits are charged $30 for the same equipment and time. Only tables provided by the sponsor can be used.

Howard Gardner School

The small private school for teens has moved into its new building on Franconia Road between Leewood Drive and the Rose Hill Baptist Church. The school has been meeting in the church for several years. The circular building includes an inner atrium that will be used for school meetings and event. Five classrooms surround the atrium. Downstairs are a lunch room, theatre and recording studio. The school currently has 48 students in grades from 8-12. For more information, visit the school's website at thehowardgardnerschool.org.

Have You Noticed.....

.....That a half gallon on most ice cream is now 1.5 or 1.75 quarts? That a half gallon of major brands of orange juice is now 59 ounces instead of 64 ounces? That a case of major brand sodas is now 20 cans instead of 24? That bags of potato chips continue to shrink so much that soon you will be left holding an empty bag? That one brand of dish detergent is now 20 ounces instead of 24 ounces? That packages of a well-known brand of American cheese now has 22 slices instead of 24? And on and on and on. It's getting so bad that I fully expect to pull up to the pump only to find that a gallon of gas is now 3.75 quarts! Fight back by buying those brands that haven't downsized in quantity while at the same time raising prices. Buy on sale or in bulk. And that's The Rambler's consumer tip for this month!

YOUR REAL ESTATE CORNER: A QUARTERLY UPDATE

Happy New Year! I hope this inaugural column of Your Real Estate Corner finds you and your family happy and healthy. My name is Kimberley Bush, ABR, GREEN, SFR and I am a proud resident of Rose Hill. I am licensed real estate agent in VA and DC. I decided to start writing this quarterly column because I thought it would be helpful to share with our community not only what is happening regionally in real estate but what is transpiring right here in Rose Hill Farm. Last quarter, new data was released showing that our region added 56,000+ jobs. This addition of jobs fosters housing demand. Mortgage rates continued to present opportunities to save and average sales prices rose by about 8%. It is forecasted that the 30 year fixed rate will rise gradually to 5.3% in 2011 and unemployment should drop to 9.2% per the National Association of Realtors.

With all this being said Alexandria/Rose Hill is still and should remain a very attractive choice for buyers. We are conveniently located to accommodate the administration as well as military installations. There are major changes happening with the Springfield Mall and our very own Lee District Park is becoming enhanced with several new additions to the park. As you will see from the 4th quarter 2010 statistics below, approximately 75% of sellers in Rose Hill are still able to sell their homes at or above list price in less than 60 days.

You may not know about a great new addition to our community and it comes in the form of a website site called www.rosehill.patch.com. It is a website that I discovered while looking for something exciting to do in our community. It is a great neighborhood website that is easy to navigate, fun and most importantly informative. Take a look!!

If you have any questions about my column or the sales data please feel free to email me at Kimberley.Bush@longandfoster.com or check out my website at www.kimberleybush.infre.com. In the meantime take a look at the market's movement here in Rose Hill for the last quarter of 2010.
