Enjoy Hot Soup on a Cold Night At RHCA's January 22 Meeting

Continuing what has become a tradition, hot soup will be on the agenda for the Rose Hill Civic Association's first meeting of the New Year on January 22 beginning at 7 p.m. in the community room of the John Marshall Library. Members and friends are encouraged to bring their favorite soup to share. RHCA will provide all the paper products and utensils necessary for serving. We also will have ice tea, crackers, bread and butter, and other items for your enjoyment. Desserts to share will also be welcome.

The agenda will consist of a discussion of upcoming items in 2013, including the re-enactment of the Rose Hill Raid on September 28, exactly 150 years to the day of the original incident in 1863. On that date during the Civil War, Confederate Raider Colonel John Singleton Mosby slipped into Rose Hill and captured Colonel Daniel Dulany, an aide to the Union appointed governor of the Restored State of Virginia. One of Mosby's raiders was Dulany's son, French.

The Rose Hill Raid has been memorialized in a painting by John Paul Strain, famed Civil War artist. A copy of the painting and an explanation of the raid are displayed on the wall near the door at the community room in the library. The cost of the copy was covered by donations from numerous Rose Hill residents, all of whose names are included with the display. Stop by and take a look!

The original Rose Hill house was located on a bluff at the end of what is now May Boulevard. The house and grounds were reached by a road from Telegraph Road roughly where Rose Hill Drive intersects with Telegraph Road today. It curved around the hill, bordered by apple trees, to the house at the end of a driveway flanked by rose bushes. The original house was built before the United States became a country by Daniel French, a contemporary of George Washington who also began the construction of historic Pohick Church. The original Rose Hill burned in 1899, was rebuilt and then unfortunately destroyed in the 1960s to make way for new homes. You can read about and view old pictures of the house on the RHCA web site, myrosehill.com.

There also will be an update on the plans to preserve the house known as Belvale, the home of George Washington's attorney. Although somewhat altered, the house still stands on Telegraph Road near the intersection of D'Everaux Circle. In Washington's time, the Rose Hill house would have overlooked Belvale. George Johnston, who also represented Fairfax County in the Virginia House of Burgesses and was an ally of Patrick Henry, lived at Belvale. Because the house sits back from the road at the end of a long yard, it is hard to see. Go slow and look to the left as you travel south on Telegraph just after the light at D'Everaux Circle.

The Franconia Museum, with the support of Supervisor McKay's office, is spearheading an effort to get the house listed on the National Register of Historic sites.

Holiday Lights

It was great to see the Downey residence at 6516 Telegraph Road back at the top of the list of award winners for Holiday Lights in Rose Hill! For years, Willard and Myrna Downey had a display that folks came from miles around to see. After they passed away, the lights diminished somewhat. Not this year! Apparently the children and grandchildren got the word from On High to once again make the Downey property a holiday landmark. And they outdid themselves. The original Downeys no doubt are proud of them. You can learn more about the original Downeys by clicking on the In Memoriam section of myrosehill.com.

Once again there were a number of spectacular displays that brought oohs and aahs from neighbors and visitors. Rose Hill has become a destination for people who like to view outstanding displays. The Dillon house on Wayside Place was better than ever. Same for the Kroetches and the Rabys on Flower Lane. Cottonwood Drive was accented by Larry and Connie Fulk on one side of Rose Hill Drive and their daughter Tracy on the other side. The James' marked the spot of the original Rose Hill house with a brilliant display at the end of May Boulevard.

Although a little off the beaten track, the display at the Martins on Blue Grass Drive was worth seeking out. Once again, the McMinns on Apple Tree Drive, the Daileys on Eastchester Circle and the Najazadeshs on Telegraph Road had excellent displays. Also, the trees at the Dodsons on Wayside Place and the Luginbills around the corner on Rose Hill Drive once again were impressive.

Rose Hill Drive, our main street, was a particular bright spot this year. Thanks to everyone who took the time to put up lights and displays that showcased our entire neighborhood for folks just passing through. All of the winners are listed on Page 5 of this month's Rambler. If the judges missed anyone, please let us know and we'll add the name next month. Sometimes, residents forget to turn on the lights or the judges misread an address in the dark.

Which reminds me to remind you to make sure your house number is highly visible from the street. Wouldn't want the emergency responders to have to search for the number when time is at a premium.

Membership for 2013

Please join those listed on Page 4 who already have joined RHCA for 2013. A membership form with all the information is also included. Your dues and contributions go toward supporting the Rose Hill Beauty and Veterans programs, maintaining the landscaping around our entrance sign, contributions to Koinonia to help the less fortunate among us, the Edison All-Night Graduation Party and the annual dinner and breakfast for the police who have to work Christmas Eve and Day when most restaurants are closed, as well as providing the necessary paper products and some snacks at meetings. The $10 membership dues do not cover the printing of the nine Ramblers each resident receives, so your contributions in excess of the dues are greatly appreciated. We have a small army of people who deliver the Rambler and serve as Neighborhood Watch captains. If you have time to help, please contact either Linda or myself.

See Something, Say Something!

Rose Hill is a low-crime community thanks to our local police and our vigilant residents. Recently, several criminal activities were thwarted in our community due to the efforts of our active Neighborhood Watch members and their neighbors. We ask that everyone keep their eyes open for potential unlawful activity and if they see something that doesn't look normal, CALL THE POLICE non-emergency number at 703-691-2131 and report it. If you see a crime in progress, call 911. If you see a vehicle that is involved, try to get a license number. Recently, a series of phone calls resulted in police activity and arrests. Don't assume that a problem will go away. It may only get worse if the people involved think they have gone unnoticed. All of us need to act as the eyes of our police. You can't imagine how a series of phone calls, each with partial information, can lead to the unraveling of a serious crime. Given the events nationally in recent months, please give particular attention to activity around Rose Hill Elementary, Mark Twain Middle School, Edison High School, John Marshall Library, Lee District Park and the shopping center as you come and go from our community. Report suspicious persons and vehicles. Your report could stop a crime from happening. If something or somebody looks suspicious or out of place, make sure the police know. Keep Rose Hill a safe and secure place for everyone. Read the info below to learn about our efforts to improve police presence in our community.

It's Budget Time Again

Over the next several months, I will be serving on Supervisor McKay's Budget Advisory Committee for the Fiscal Year 2014 that begins July 1, 2013. Although things appear to be getting better, the County continues to face potential budget shortfalls. The recent actions at the national level have not solved our long-term problems and could have devastating ramifications for Fairfax County. And then there is the uncertainty we face because of potential changes in local funding by the Commonwealth of Virginia. Hopefully, all of this will sort itself out before the County adopts its budget in April. My goal will be to try to maintain adequate services within a tax structure that does not adversely affect our wallets. I will continue to argue that recent cutbacks in public safety have put our communities at risk. Simply put, we no longer have the adequate patrol officers on the street to meet our needs. On the one hand, the County encourages our participation by reporting potential crime. On the other, records show that the County has decreased the number of officers available to respond to those reports. If you have any thoughts about the budget, please send me an e-mail or give me a call. I will make sure your concerns are brought to the attention of the committee and Supervisor McKay.

Gettysburg Sesquicentennial

Thanks to the Gerke family on Apple Tree Drive in Rose Hill for donating a large lithograph of the famous Civil War Battle of Gettysburg to the Franconia Museum. The map accurately places all of the units involved, both Union and Confederate, during the three days of July 1, 2 and 3, 1863. The topography is authenticated and signed by General George Gordon Meade, commander of the Union Army at Gettysburg. The map is on display at the Museum, located in the Franconia Government Center, 6121 Franconia Road. The Museum is open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. If you had a relative who fought at Gettysburg, you can pinpoint the location of his unit on the field. Ask the volunteer on duty to place the framed map in a place where you can take close look. Either ask to use or take a magnifying glass to view the smallest of details.

The Museum is sponsoring a day-long tour to Gettysburg on Saturday, April 20, 2013. It is part of the Museum's popular Both Sides tour series. Included will be stops at locations of fighting on each of the three days and a viewing of the impressive Cyclorama painting that will surround you as part of a sound and light show at the visitor's center. The trip is by comfortable motor coach and includes lunch and all fees. Additional information can be found at either myrosehill.com or franconiamuseum.org. You also can pick up a flyer and registration form at the museum.

Web Site Report

There were 2,611 visits by 1,230 different people to myrosehill.com, the Rose Hill Civic Association web site. Of those numbers, 1,391, or 53.27 percent, were returning visitors, 1,220 visited the site for the first time! Visitation was highest in January and June. The web site is full of information about Rose Hill and includes links to County and State agencies, schools, organizations and neighboring associations. RHCA meeting dates with time, location and agenda is updated monthly. The web site is maintained by Jim Sapp, long-time resident of Haystack Road at NO cost to RHCA. Although he now lives in Colorado, Jim maintains his ties to Rose Hill through myrosehill.com. Just like the line for the old Eagles' hit "Hotel California," you can check out (of Rose Hill) anytime you like, but you can never leave! Jim also maintains the web site for the Franconia Museum as well as other organizations in which he has an interest.

Expert Roof Repair/Replacement, Gutters too!

Residential & Commercial: Expert Repairs & Installation of All Types of Roofing at Fair Prices

SIX Common Misconceptions about Roofing and the Roofing Industry:

Misconception #1. You should wait as long as possible to re-roof your home.

No! Your roof takes a beating every day from sun, wind and rain. Your shingles become brittle and crack with age and have a tendency to blow off and fail at an alarming rate with age. This exposes the roof decking (the sub-structure that literally, "keeps you out of the rain") to moisture which slowly deteriorates and rots the wood beneath, leading to leaks and more extensive damage.

Further, the metal flashings around chimney areas and at adjoining exterior walls (or rooflines), the penetration collars (around plumbing and heat stacks) and all other vents become worn and prone to water infiltration.

Next time you're outside, take a close look at your roof (most people don't pay attention to it until there's a problem). How does it look? Is it rough and weathered? Are the shingles "curling" or cracking? Is one section very distinguishable from all other areas? Finally, are you proud of the way your roof helps "show" your home, or are you embarrassed by its appearance?

Remember: By the time you have waited "as long as possible," you have probably waited too long and will end up spending your hard earned money on interior and sub-structure repairs, as well as a much needed roof replacement.
