Telegraph Interchange Redesign Eliminates Bottlenecks and Turns

A redesigned Telegraph Road Interchange with the Capital Beltway has been unveiled by the Virginia Department of Transportation. The new design includes bridges carrying traffic over Telegraph Road from Huntington Avenue and North King's Highway. As a result, there will no longer be left turns off Telegraph southbound at either Huntington or North King's.

The redesign was made possible because the bids for the Route 1 Interchange came in at $20 million less than anticipated and the money was transferred to the Telegraph Road Interchange. Previously, turns from Telegraph onto Huntington and North King's would have been at grade, continuing the lengthy waits at the traffic lights.

Pre-construction activities, such as business relocations and utility relocation work, have already begun in preparation for building the new Telegraph Road Interchange. The Interchange is the final component of the 7.5 mile Woodrow Wilson Bridge Project and is currently scheduled to be completed in 2011.

The new span of the Woodrow Wilson Bridge is scheduled to open next spring (2006). Existing Beltway traffic will be routed onto the new bridge in six travel lanes (three lanes in each direction). The existing bridge will be demolished and the new northern span of the Woodrow Wilson Bridge is scheduled to open in mid-2008. The completed new bridge will have three general use lanes, two express lanes, and one HOV lane and a pedestrian/bikeway lane in each direction.

The Route 1 Interchange is currently under construction. Its cost of approximately $600 million is the same as the Springfield Interchange. The Telegraph Road Interchange is expected to cost $316 million. The bridge will add $820 million and two interchanges in Maryland add another $465 million for a grand total of $2.4 Billion!

The Telegraph Interchange redesign should greatly benefit through-traffic going both north and south on Telegraph Road. Although there will remain at-grade traffic signals at both Huntington Avenue and King's Highway, the turning movements will be greatly reduced. For example, the turns at King's Highway and Telegraph will be limited to right or left turns from King's onto Telegraph. The same situation will exist at Huntington.

Traffic from Burgundy Village will access Telegraph at an extension of East Drive that will lineup with existing Lenore Lane. A light will be added at that intersection. Two elevated ramps will provide access from the Beltway Outer Loop to eastbound Huntington Avenue (toward Metro) and northbound King's Highway, as well as southbound Telegraph Road. Two additional elevated ramps will provide access from southbound Telegraph to eastbound Huntington Avenue and North King's Highway, thus eliminating the need for left turns.

There are a number of issues that need to be resolved. Most of them affect the Burgundy Village community and involve noise attenuation and the location of the extension of East Drive. Pedestrian access to the Huntington Metro Station from Burgundy needs to be greatly improved. RHCA will support any effort to improve the design so that it will have minimal impact on neighboring communities. However, the improvements to Telegraph will benefit a wide area and should not be held hostage to strictly localized concerns.

Although there are massive improvements to the Beltway Interchanges at Springfield, Telegraph, and Route 1, there is no immediate relief in sight for the Van Dorn Interchange.

We will have a large copy of the plan for the Telegraph Interchange available at our June 28 meeting. I'll trace the different traffic movements and how they will help move through traffic on Telegraph Road.

Although there are massive improvements to the Beltway Interchanges at Springfield, Telegraph, and Route 1, there is no immediate relief in sight for the Van Dorn Interchange. Plans for a full interchange at Van Dorn have been discussed, but as yet, no funding for construction is available.

All About Quilts

In an effort to showcase one of the many artisans in our community, we have invited Marjorie Parkyn of Carriage Drive and her daughter, Sally Dankers, to our June 28 meeting to educate us in the art of quilt making. Marjorie and Sally make quilts by hand for sale. They will bring several samples of their work, including one in production, and explain how it is done. Marjorie is 81 and taught herself how to make quilts within the last dozen years. You might find a quilt a good gift idea. At the least, you'll understand how they are made by hand. The meeting begins at 7pm in the community room of the John Marshall Library. Refreshments will be served. RHCA also is looking for other artisans in the community to share their talent at a future meeting. Contact any of the officers with the names of these special people!

Parking on Grass

Rose Hill residents are advised of two regulations involving the parking of cars on grass, either on public or private property. First, residents on Rose Hill Drive are advised that parking on the grass strip between the sidewalk and the curb is illegal and violators are subject to receiving a parking violation from the Fairfax County police. The grass strip belongs to the Virginia Department of Transportation and not the individual homeowners. RHCA has been trying to alert residents about this regulation in the hope they will not park their cars on the grass and subject themselves to a ticket with its financial penalties. RHCA is working with the County's Office of Transportation to obtain signage at several locations to warn residents and guests about the parking prohibition. Second, residents throughout the community are advised that parking in their front yards is limited to 25 percent of the width of the total front yard. Residents with doublewide driveways are approaching the limit so any additional parking on the grass is a potential violation. In the latter case, it is a violation of County ordinance that could result in a fine or court summons for failure to comply. RHCA is committed to enforcement of the County zoning laws and passes on this information in the hope it will help residents avoid tickets or other penalties.

Correction, New Members

RHCA apologizes to the Christiansens at 6500 Carriage Drive. We failed to change our records to reflect a recent marriage. That Rose Hill Beauty sign should have preceded this apology. Thanks for the great improvement at that address. We also missed the Lewises at 6206 Thornwood Drive. They are long-time members. New members since the May Rambler include Norma & Augusto Alvarez, Jr., 6507 Carriage Drive; Jane & Margo Cunniffe, 4609 Mayor Place; Ron & Donna Dillon, 4618 Winston Place; William & Christina Gerke, 4905 Apple Tree Drive; Nell Husseini, 5916 Treetop Lane; and John & Dorothy Thibeaue, 6216 Saddle Tree Drive. Again, thanks to all of you who have joined RHCA and supported our various projects during the year.

Development Issues

There are many rumors concerning potential development of the property on Rock-A-By Lane bordered by Bee Street, Willowood Lane, and Rose Hill Drive and accessed at the end of Lark Lane. Some probably are true, but we won't know for sure until if and when a development plan is filed with Fairfax County. We do know that a potential developer has purchased the house at 4413 Bee Street, presumably in an effort to provide an access point for development. There currently is an easement connecting Rock-A-By Lane to Bee Street, but it does not meet current County standards. Once a plan is presented to the County, RHCA will obtain a copy, share it with the community, and then prepare a list of concerns. The property is zoned R-3, the same as the rest of Rose Hill, so single-family homes can be built by right. Any other development would require a rezoning and its resulting public hearings. If the property is developed by right, RHCA will be particularly concerned about water runoff, tree preservation, and any potential adverse effects on neighboring properties if marine clay is present.

We have nothing new to report concerning the development of Rose Hill Park Section III. We expect to be notified when and if a site plan is filed with the County. As you know, we will insist that the conditions adopted by the Board of Supervisors last summer are followed.

If anything comes up over the summer involving either development, we will advise the neighbors and call a special meeting.

How About Those Nationals!

As of this writing, the Washington Nationals are in first place in the National League's East Division. A major league baseball team representing the Nation's Capital hasn't been in that lofty a position since 1933 (that's even before your RHCA president was born!). Although we don't expect to win a Division that includes the Atlanta Braves, Philadelphia Phillies, Florida Marlins, and New York Mets, our Nationals are very, very competitive. If you haven't been to a game, plan to do so. Ticket prices for upper deck in the outfield are as low as $7, even lower during special promotions or group sales. Go to www.Nationals.com for all prices and locations.

If you plan to attend a game, here are a few suggestions: If you're going to a weekday game, ride Metro to the Stadium/Armory station. Take the Blue Line all the way from Franconia-Springfield or the Yellow Line from Huntington and change to the Blue or Orange Line at L'Enfant Plaza. If you want to drive, attend weekend games to avoid rush-hour traffic. If the team continues to be competitive, look for crowds of 30,000+ during the week and 40,000+ on weekends. The stadium and its personnel are fan-friendly and baseball crowds are rarely rowdy. You can take bottled water into the stadium, but not soft or fruit drinks. You also can take snacks. If you want a hot dog, buy it at one of the outdoor stands next to the Armory. A fully dressed hot dog and a 20-ounce bottled soft drink cost $4 outside, twice that inside! And you can get only mustard and ketchup inside. I always 'eat street' before a game. Peanuts also are much cheaper outside.

If the team continues to be competitive, look for crowds of 30,000+ during the week and 40,000+ on weekends.

See You In September

RHCA does not meet in July or August. Our next meeting will be September 26, 2005. However, rest assured that our outstanding Neighborhood Watch will be on duty all summer. If you have any questions or concerns, please call any of the officers. If you don't get a call back within a few days, try another officer as the first one may be on vacation.

A Neighbor In Need

On March 20th, one of the oldest houses in Rose Hill burned down. At the end of Lark Lane, there's a little gravel road called Rock-a-By. Gloria Upright's house is the first one you see on that road and now it's uninhabitable. She lived there for 35 years, raised all her kids and her granddaughter there, and now all possibilities of an easy retirement have gone up in smoke.

Gloria's in dire straights. She's dealing with insurance companies that are taking advantage of her age and situation, and she's trying to find a place to live. Gloria and her granddaughter, Rachel, have been living with a neighbor two doors away from her old house because she doesn't qualify for an apartment since she's retired, disabled, and lives on a fixed income. Rachel is 16 and is a sophomore IB student at Edison HS. Gloria would like her to continue her education at Edison and graduate from there.

RHCA is trying to help out these ladies. First and foremost, they need a place to live. Sharing the house with their very generous neighbors just can't continue. They need a place of their own. If you have or know of an apartment/rental unit available for $900 or less a month, utilities included, PLEASE call Gloria at 703.963.3372. The place would have to accept cats.

Secondly, Gloria needs affordable legal help. She has to file suite against at least one insurance company and cannot afford a lawyer. Any lawyers out there willing to help out a needy neighbor? Or do you know of one that is willing to work for cheap or pro bono? Please call Gloria directly at 703.963.3372.

Finally, since all of their belongings are toast, in order to live on their own, they would need furniture. Gloria is open to taking donations since she is financially unable to purchase new furnishings. Unfortunately, as of right now, there is no place to put them. If you could just hold onto them for a little while, once Gloria finds a new place, she will gladly take any donations of furniture off your hands. In the meantime, I'm helping her out by keeping track of any donations. Feel free to call me (Marty Williams, 703.924.7192) with a description of your item, and leave me your name, address, and phone number. Hopefully, we'll be able to gather them all together on move-in day.

RHCA has started a Fire Relief Fund. If you care to help out with a financial donation, please send your check to RHCA, P.O. Box 10891, Alexandria, VA 22310. Please put Fire Relief in the memo line of your check, but do not put it on the envelope. We don't want to lose any precious donations to a mail thief. Our treasurer, Carolyn Slenska, will make sure that Gloria gets your donations in a timely fashion.

We know how generous Rose Hill residents are, and how kind-hearted and helpful this community is. Let's help out our neighbor and give her some bootstraps that she can pull herself up with. Thanks.

—Marty Williams

Franconia Volunteer Fire Department Looking for Additional Volunteers

The Franconia Volunteer Fire Department is looking for two types of volunteers: administrative volunteers who work bingo; and riding volunteers who, in addition to working bingo, become firefighters and/or Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs). The Franconia VFD has been in existence since 1933 providing valuable personnel and equipment for our community for more than 72 years! Unlike much of the rest of Fairfax County, the volunteers own the Franconia Fire Station and all of the vehicles in it including a tower truck, two fire engines, two ambulances, and three other vehicles. We also own a fire engine and two ambulances at the Kingstowne Fire Station. To give you an idea of the expenses involved, a fire engine costs more than $400,000! The volunteer contributions of buildings, land, and vehicles for our community are made possible by bingo, which is held at the Franconia Fire Station on Wednesday and Saturday nights. In order to maintain bingo and the income it generates for the fire department, we urgently need administrative volunteers. Anyone over age 18 may apply. No special skills or abilities are required. All training is provided by the department.

The fire department also needs riding volunteers willing to become firefighters or EMTs. Although both stations are always manned by professional firefighters, EMTs, and Medics, riding volunteers provide additional staffing. We also place additional units in service that would not be running without the volunteers. The volunteers provide ambulances at football games at Edison and Hayfield High Schools, Wolf Trap concerts, county-wide fairs, festivals, and other community events. If you are interested in becoming a riding member and learning first aid and/or firefighter skills, this is a terrific opportunity. Applicants must be at least 18 years old and physically fit. Training and gear are provided by the department.

All that is requested from you is your time, energy, and commitment. For more information call 703.922.5858 or visit our website at www.franconiavfd.org. You may also stop by during bingo on any Wednesday or Saturday night and speak to one of the volunteers. The address is 6300 Beulah St., Franconia, VA 22310-2626.

—Watkins Gray, Franconia VFD

RHCA wants to remind you that the volunteers never see any of the new surcharge/tax imposed on April 1 on County residents when transported to a medical facility.
