JULY HEALTH TIP

SUBMITTED BY SIS. SAMANTHA JOHNSON

COVID-19 Vaccines and Racial and Ethnic Minority Populations

Racial and ethnic minority people are more likely than white people to get sick, become hospitalized, or die from COVID-19. It is important that we use every tool to stay healthy and to stop the pandemic. There are now safe and effective COVID-19 vaccines available. However, far fewer racial and ethnic minority people have gotten the vaccine than white people so far. Available data show that minority populations have lower vaccination rates than Non-Hispanic whites.

The HHS Office of Minority Health recommends that you get the vaccine when you can—don't miss your chance to protect yourself and the people around you.

Key Facts about COVID-19 Vaccines:

- They help protect you and others – The COVID-19 vaccine helps your body develop immunity to the disease. Getting vaccinated, wearing masks, hand washing, and staying six feet from others will help stop the spread of COVID-19 and help us get back to normal.
- They are effective – COVID-19 vaccines are very effective at keeping you from getting COVID-19. They may help prevent you from getting seriously ill even if you do get COVID-19. These vaccines cannot give you COVID-19.
- They are safe – The U.S. vaccine safety system makes sure that all vaccines are as safe as possible. All the COVID-19 vaccines have gone through the same safety tests and meet the same standards as any other vaccine produced through the years.
- They are free – The federal government is providing the vaccine free of charge to people living in the United States. You can get the vaccine at no cost regardless of your insurance or immigration status.
