Romans 12:15: Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep.

STATEMENT OF FAITH: (Write out this statement of faith and place it somewhere you can read each morning and evening as a family)

To have a good, peaceful life. I need friends that built me up. The friends Father God has for my life are like-minded, that love me for me! And to have good friends I must first be one!

Plan:

- 1. Share in this week's lesson. Explain what you learned.
- 2. Write in your Journal(notebook) what you have learned about showing kindness to others.
- 3. As a family, find another family you could be happy for this week. Call or visit this family and be a great friend. Find ways to share with others.
- 4. Draw or paint a picture for another family member. Reminding them of some kindness they did for you and thank them.
- 5. Take turns letting each family member share while everyone else is actively listening. Ask the speaker did they feel valued and listened to?
- 6. As a family discuss what learned about kindness. How can you see this lesson in the future?
