Speaker Biographies

Dr. Justin Schell

Justin is the U.S Director of the Union School of Theology (theolo.gy) and is the Director of Executive Projects for the Lausanne Movement. He and his wife Megan spent some years as missionaries in a closed country in the 10/40 window and now reside in Tulsa with their kids. He has a Masters of Missiology and a Masters of Biblical Theology from Gordon Conwell, a Masters in International Leadership, Strategy, and Innovation from EDHEC Business School, and a PhD from The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Jeff Lewis. M. Div.

For more than 33 years Jeff has been a global activist and mobilizer for the Great Commission. He has worked in 26 countries assisting field personnel and indigenous church leaders with mobilization strategy development and implementation. He has also served as a church planter, pastor, college minister, and mission consultant. Jeff was co-founder of the Passion Conferences. His area of academic expertise includes Biblical foundation for missions and mobilization as well as Discipleship. Jeff is the author of God's Heart for the Nations and contributor to Discovering the Mission of God; Best Missional Practices for the 21st Century. He holds a B.A. in Human Service from the University of Tennessee and an M.Div. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is the father of seven and grandfather of 14 and resides in Redlands, California with his wife of 45 years, Elaine.

Ali

Ali is from a Muslim country in the 10/40 window which is closed to Christianity. He came to the US for high school and college eleven years ago. About five years ago, he began to investigate Christianity and eventually began to follow Christ. Ali is a professional athlete and a two-time Olympian. Recently, he moved to OKC and now attends Faith Bible Church.

Corey Makeever

Corey and his wife Brooke have been members of Faith Bible Church for about twelve years. He grew up in Texas and Oklahoma and came to UCO to play basketball. It was during his time at UCO that he came to faith in Christ. Now Corey is the Campus Director for Student Mobilization (StuMo) at UCO, where he oversees eight full time staff people as they evangelize, disciple, and mobilize hundreds of college students to be spiritual leaders – locally and also in the unreached areas of the world. Brooke and Corey have three little girls and attend the Custer ABF.

Dr. Todd Ahrend

Todd graduated from Northeastern State University, has a Masters from Dallas Theological Seminary and a Doctorate from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. He is the founder and international director of The Traveling Team, a national missions mobilization movement. He and his wife, Jessica, have spent almost two decades speaking to audiences around the world about world evangelization. They lived in the Middle East for a time and have been active in over sixty countries. He is the author of The Abrahamic Revolution and In This Generation. Todd and Jessica have six children and are based out of Fayetteville, AR.

John Weaver

In 1998, after earning a MA in Intercultural Studies, John joined a pioneer church planting team in Central Asia. He met his bride-to-be there and they had a Christ-centered wedding in 2005 surrounded by hundreds of curious Muslims. They now have five children. John has served in various international ministries for over 25 years, 16 of which he lived in Central Asia. He is involved in disciple-making, leadership development, missions training, and international advocacy. He has authored two books, one of which is Inside Afghanistan, A Flame on the Front Line.

Andy Kampman

Andy is the Mobilization Director at Austin Stone Church in Austin, Texas. He and his wife, Jamie, started an organization called Launch Global, which mobilizes churches to develop laborers and leaders for Christ to multiply churches among unreached people groups. They are passionate about Jesus and His global worship. They have four children.
