Elders' Newsletter

Living in our current world is a daunting experience. The pressures and emotional beat-downs feel like they arrive more frequently and with increasing intensity. It is easy to fall prey to the disease of discouragement. What is the antidote to this toxin? Encouragement. You can administer this powerful remedy to those around you and simultaneously receive of its many benefits.

“The generous will prosper; those who refresh others will themselves be refreshed.” Proverbs 11:25 (NLT)

The Apostle Paul also understood the value of encouragement to relationships. In fact, he wrote about it in our text for this weekend: Colossians 2:1-5. Please join us in-person or online and be refreshed with the Gospel of Jesus.
