

The Story of Our Decorations

Candles and Light

We light candles in the sanctuary because we are reminded that Jesus Christ said, "I am the Light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

Our candles are white to remind us of the completely pure and entirely unselfish love of God, who gave His only Son for our salvation. The lights remind us of God and his unlimited love -- that He sent Jesus to light our paths so that we might see how to live life abundantly, with hope and joy, with peace and love.

Poinsettias

Poinsettias are the traditional plant used to decorate homes and churches during Christmas. The bright, blood-red poinsettia became the most popular of all Christmas flowers. Its tropical red leaves are not blossoms--the flowers are small yellow clusters at the center. Dr. Joel Poinsett, of Mexico, discovered the poinsettia in 1828.

A Mexican legend says that when blood fell on the earth from the broken heart of a young girl, a poinsettia grew from each drop. We can be reminded of the blood the Christmas infant came to shed for us. The plant's star-shaped formation of red leaves reminds us of the star which came to shine over Bethlehem.

Holly

In ancient times, the holly was considered the symbol of Christ's passion: its prickly leaves suggested the crown of thorns, its red berries the blood of the Savior, and its bitter bark the drink offered to Jesus on the cross. As we lay a branch of holly on the altar, let us rejoice in the coming of Jesus, our Savior, ever mindful of the great price He paid for our salvation.

Evergreen, Pine, and Fir

Because the needles of the pine and fir trees do not die each season like the leaves of most trees, the ancients saw them as symbols of things that last forever. The prophet Isaiah tells us that there will be no end to the reign of the Messiah, and so we hang wreaths of evergreens shaped in circles, having no ends, to signify the eternal kingdom of Jesus, the Christ.

Cedar Tree

In ancient times, the cedar was revered as the tree of royalty. It signified immortality and was used for purification. The cedar branch on the altar is a symbol of Christ, Who reigns as King forever, and Whose coming, in justice and righteousness, will purify us.
