THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

The call to follow Christ is a call to relationship. However, it is not a call to a relationship on our terms, but rather on God’s terms. As we seek to walk in relationship, we do not get to invent God in our image, but must embrace Him as He is. There is a great temptation to define God on our terms, but that simply will not work.

“If we are not spending time in the Bible, we will never fully know the character and heart of our God. It is sad that so many believers approach the Bible casually.”

As we think about walking in relationship with our Heavenly Father, we must be aware that His word, the Bible, is essential. God’s word is His revelation of Himself to you and me. If we are not spending time in the Bible, we will never fully know the character and heart of our God. It is sad that so many believers approach the Bible casually.

As we get to know God through His word, we can begin to recognize the power of God at work. His word instructs as to how to pray, how to treat each other, how to worship, and many other things. By walking in obedience to His word, we will begin to see His power at work in our lives. Not only will we see this power at work generally, but we will also see it at work in specific situations and relationships.

Today we will read of the Sadducees and the fact that they knew, “neither the Scriptures nor the power of God.” Let us not be guilty of the same. My prayer is that we will know both. First, I pray that we will be firmly rooted in the Bible and that we will fully know the power of God at work in our lives.

Honored to be your pastor,

DARRELL

ACTION

Do you spend regular time in the Bible? If so, what are some steps you can take to make that time more beneficial? If not, what can you do to make time for such a practice?
