Dear Praying Partners,

March-April 2019

In our last letter we shared how the church voted to support a missionary family. The commitments came in and 243 Euros (about $280) were promised! Before the commitments came, I had suggested that the minimum be 200 Euros (about $230), so it is exciting to see that our young church has taken this step of maturity and they have a desire to be involved in supporting missions.

In March we were delighted to host the Gospel music ensemble from Valley Forge Baptist in Pennsylvania, who support our co-workers, Todd and Kim Lapato. They held two concerts for us – one in our local senior citizens home and the other at a hotel conference room. Their musical performances were not only beautiful, but also full of the Gospel. At both events the songs were translated and the Gospel was clearly given. We are thankful for the friendships made with those on the music team and for their willingness to help share the Gospel through song.

The concert at the hotel conference room – So thankful for the visitors who attended

In the last two months, since our previous letter was sent, we have had some wonderful guest preachers with us. During the concert, at the hotel conference room, we invited Ed Taylor, who preached a powerful message about hope through Jesus Christ. After the concert, we were able to meet several people and have favorable conversations with them regarding the music and also the message from Ed Taylor. Please pray that Pastor Taylor's message will work in their hearts towards their need of salvation.

A few weeks later we had Dr. Wolfgang Nestvogel, a renowned preacher here in Germany. His ministry influenced the lives of our two of our dearest members, Jochen and Nora, who were married by Dr. Nestvogel. Their last service with us was on the same day that Dr. Nestvogel came to preach. Jochen, who was led to the Lord under Dr. Nestvogel's ministry, accepted a position as the head cardiologist of a hospital about an hour away from us. I am thankful for Dr. Nestvogel's influence, and his faithfulness to God's Word in shaping the lives of a couple, who I know will be used of God in their next station in life.

We celebrated Grant's 7th birthday at the end of March with much fun and adventure (if you have ever had a piñata at a birthday party, you have experienced "adventure"!). Grant was very thankful for all the cards and gifts that many of you sent! It was a treat for him to open each card and read greetings from many of you!

During my last English class before the start of the Easter break, I had the students explain to me what Easter means to them. Some of the explanations were: a special time to be with family, to eat a traditional meal, or to reflect on spiritual things. When all had finished, I asked if I could share what Easter means to me, and I simply shared the Gospel. Please pray for me as I continue teaching English with the hope of pointing people to Christ!

We are grateful for the prayers and financial support that we continually receive. We are thankful that God has allowed us to partner together with many believers as we work together to see souls saved and bring glory to our Savior! We would love to hear from you! Give us some insight into opportunities that you have had in making Christ's name known in your area.
