

REACHING A LAND IN NEED.

April 2019

Dear Pastor, Church Family, and Praying Friends,

Thank you for your prayers for the Valentine's dinner. It went well, and it was such an encouragement to get together with these ladies and learn a little bit more about them and about how the Lord has worked in their lives. We had a Bible study about the different kinds of love mentioned in the Bible, and I definitely learned a lot! The lesson even bled over into my Sunday School class when we discussed the different kinds of love and how God's love for us is agape – a sacrificial love.

K has still not accepted the Lord, but I can see that sometimes she and the other Sunday School children are really thinking about the lesson. We recently talked about Lazarus and the rich man in Hell. It's not fun to think about Hell, but it's a reality, and we all need to be prepared for eternity. Will you join with me in praying that these boys and girls not only understand their need but also take the step of faith to believe in Jesus?

The winter blues were getting to me, and then the Lord blessed me with visits with friends. It has been so good to catch up with fellow Christians and get to spend some time with them! Having a bit of a breather has given me a bit of a shot in the arm, and it also helps that winter is officially over! Spring seems to be all the more special when you've passed the last six months bundled up and hunched over against the cold. It was even warm enough Easter Sunday that I didn't have to wear a coat to church, and I didn't have to wear boots, either!

I heard some neighbors working in their yard in the good weather, and I decided to stop by and talk with them. Please pray for A and S. They have had a lot going on these past few years, physically and mentally, and they need the Lord. I have tried sharing with them in the past, and they have listened to what I have shared, but that doesn't mean that they understand it. I am praying that the Lord opens their eyes to their need and that He would use me in whatever way possible to help them find Him.

I was reading Ephesians 6.20 one day, and the verse jumped out at me. A good way to pray for missionaries – or any Christian – is to pray that the Lord gives them boldness in proclaiming the Gospel.

Thank you for your continued and faithful prayers.
