

REACHING A LAND IN NEED.

September 2021

Dear Pastor, Church Family, and Praying Friends,

This past year has definitely been an interesting season of life, hasn't it? We've all been faced with challenges and had opportunities open for us that we weren't aware of before. It can be challenging to face changes, and yet we know that the Lord is in control.

A new challenge has come to me along with a new season in life. For a while now, I have sensed that my season at Drummondville has been coming to an end. I am very grateful for the opportunities I've had to teach children, encourage teens to follow the Lord, and learn a new culture as well as make new friends. I will forever be grateful for all that I've learned and for all that the Lord has allowed me to do at Drummondville! However, after much prayer, a lot of counsel, and confirmation from the Lord, I believe that the time has come for this season of my life to end. I have said goodbye to my Drummondville friends, and, as hard as that has been, I know they are in the hands of the Lord. He will keep them.

I am now in a season of transition. After talking it over with my pastor and counsellors, I plan to spend the next three months getting some rest, helping my parents with some health problems that have come up, and seeking the Lord's will about where He would have me serve in missions. I appreciate your prayers during this time, as it has been difficult for me to leave my Sunday School class and friends whom I have come to respect and love. Yet at the same time, the Lord has led so clearly that I know that He has something new planned, and I am trusting Him to lead and guide me into whatever new opportunities He has planned for this next season of life.

Your support has meant so much to me over these past nine years, as you have worked and labored alongside me in prayer. You have been a vital part of the ministry at Drummondville. Now I ask for your continued prayers and support during this time of furlough as I transition to a new season of life and ministry. I appreciate you praying with me that the Lord will guide me into His good, acceptable, and perfect will (Romans 8:28).

Requests:

- * The Sunday School children as they adjust to a new teacher
- * The Lord's clear leading for the next place of service

Praises:

- * The Lord's clear leading in this time of transition
