

Happy Friday, church family!

It's such a joy when people place their faith in Jesus and the promise of the gospel—and that's just what we celebrated last Sunday with the baptism of two of our newest believers. The Bible says going under the water is a symbol of dying to our old way of life; and coming up out of the water is a symbol of the new, resurrected life we have in Jesus. If you'd like to learn more about what it means to be baptized, we'd love to talk with you! For more information, you can email info@lexingtonbaptist.org.

Last Sunday, we announced an incredible opportunity for outreach and evangelism coming up. We're taking our Easter services outside the walls of LBC to Blowfish Stadium on April 4th! On Easter Sunday instead of having services in our regular location, we'll have "Easter at the Ballpark" as we share the gospel of the risen Jesus with the greater Lexington area.

How often do we invite friends, neighbors, family, and colleagues to join us for Easter at church? It is our prayer that this event will be a springboard for you to invite everyone you know to join you for this experience. It will be worshipful, and the gospel will be shared boldly, but maybe the ballpark would be a less intimidating venue for someone who may be hesitant about coming to church. Also, we understand our limitations here at LBC with capacity and social distancing. Over at Blowfish stadium, we will have two outdoor services – at 9 and 11 – and these services can safely accommodate thousands of people. We are excited around here, and we hope you are too! Begin praying now about who you can invite to Easter at the Ballpark.

All evangelism depends on prayer in order for people to hear and receive the gospel. But services like "Easter at the Ballpark" must especially be undergirded with prayer. In that regard, I'd like to invite you to volunteer to serve on a special Prayer Team who will be devoted to this purpose. To find out more, please email info@lexingtonbaptist.org and someone will be in touch soon.

Finally, we've made the decision to postpone our online event, "Let's Talk: Marriage" that was originally scheduled for next Wednesday. Stay tuned for a new date that will be shared soon.

I hope you'll join us this Sunday – either online or on-campus for our worship services. In the meantime, please let us know if there is anything you need. We'd be honored to pray for or serve your family.
