Mike Turner

Senior Pastor

From the Pastor

If you asked Amanda Lyon—a gifted and beautiful young lady who grew up in our church, graduated from Anderson University and is now a graduate student at Evergreen University in Oregon—why she left her home and the people she'd grown up with to move to Portland (a city that takes seriously their slogan, "Keep Portland Weird") to be part of a new church that we helped plant two years ago, she wouldn't give a complicated reason. She'd probably just say something like, "Because I paid attention."

Paid attention to what?

Paid attention to the Word of God that commands us to "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations." (Matthew 28:19)

Paid attention to the Holy Spirit who calls and sends women and men, students and seniors, ministers and lay people to distant places to share the good news of Jesus.

Paid attention to a church with a heart for missions like LBC, and to a congregation that loves, prays for and gives to mission work across the world.

Amanda listened closely to what God was saying and obeyed. Just like the two families from our church who previously moved to Portland; and the deacon and his wife who moved to Brooklyn, New York to begin a work among Russian-speaking immigrants; and the pioneers who are stepping out from our congregation even now to lead in the revitalization of First Baptist Church West Columbia.

Add to that national list the people from our church sacrificially serving in local mission projects like Mission Lexington, the Midlands Transitional Housing for homeless veterans, Prison ministry, Lighthouse for Life (working with victims of sex trafficking), Fellowship of Christian Athletes and many others.

Then there are the missions partnerships we have in Central Asia (we're actively involved in church planting among Iranian immigrants), Nicaragua and Peru (we send medical teams and family ministry teams every summer to work in our church plant in the northern region), and southeast Asia (where church members are full-time missionaries leading in training church planters).

Acts 1:8 lays out for us what our missions strategy should be: "You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth." Our church planting commitments on the local, national and international levels are our ways of obeying the biblical call.

So this month—our Missions focus month—we'll be celebrating and hearing from many of the people, ministries and churches that our congregation is blessed to support. How exciting it is to hear from our own people who've stepped out in faith and followed God's direction! I hope you'll plan on being a part of every Sunday during the month!

My prayer during this month is that each and every one of us would do what Amanda Lyon did. Let's pay attention to what God is saying.

See you Sunday!
Pastor Mike

JESUS LOVES YOU ANYWAY

All Aboard! Jesus loves everyone, and He wants everyone to come aboard and be His friend forever. When we look at the kind of friend Jesus was while He was on earth, we can see that Jesus truly does love everyone. Throughout the Bible, we find accounts of the times that Jesus loved those considered unworthy and wanted to be their friend – no matter what.

At some point, even our precious preschoolers will all find themselves in the shoes of these “unworthy” people. Like Zacchaeus, they will have friends mad at them for a wrong choice. Or, they may not feel like they fit in because of where they’re from, much like the woman at the well. But Jesus loves them anyway – no matter what. That is what we want them to know. That will help them choose grace and to love everyone the way Jesus loves them.

So, let’s get ready for an amazing ride together. All Aboard!

LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR

Music connects way down deep in us – it becomes the soundtrack of our lives and evokes all sorts of emotion. Each night our daughter, Ellie, makes a request for her daddy to tuck her into bed and sing Elvis' 1958 hit, "Love Me Tender," while she goes to sleep. Him singing that song makes her feel safe, loved, comfortable, and peaceful before bed. Similarly, when I was falling in love with Jesus during my freshman year of college at the College of Charleston, there was a particular song – "Indescribable" by Chris Tomlin – that became interwoven deeply into the fabric of my faith. Even when I hear it now, I'm immediately taken back to those worship venues as an eighteen year old discovering Jesus for the first time.

Music has a way of doing that, doesn't it? Throughout the month of February in LexKids, we are using the power of music to talk about love.

All year long, we've looked at the Bible chronologically to better understand that God created us and made a way for us to come back to Him, even after we turned away. That is real love. When Jesus lived on earth, he set the ultimate example for us in the lessons he taught, the questions he answered, and the life he lived on what love should look like. In Matthew 22:37-39, Jesus said, "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like it: Love your neighbor as yourself." Then, He demonstrated the greatest act of love when He gave His life for us.

This month, we're focusing on Jesus' example and learning to love God and others (even those we may not like very much) with everything we've got.

On March 6th, we will host our 2nd annual Capes and Crowns Event. Our purpose is to create an intentional and fun time for families to connect, to reach into our community, and to claim value and worth over each child and speak truth to them based on their identity in Christ.

We will welcome families with a red carpet into our Family Life Center which will be completely transformed with lights and decorations. Once inside, families can eat a meal together, dance together, take family photos in our photo booths, complete crafts, and more! We'll conclude the night with parents having a meaningful time of prayer over their children. Costumes are welcome - in fact, each girl will receive a tiara and each boy will receive a cape as they enter the venue! Come create memories as a family and share some focused time together. Tickets are $8 per person, and children under 3 years old are free. Tickets are available via Eventbrite by searching for "Capes and Crowns."

ENDINGS MEAN NEW BEGINNINGS

This month in Recreation Ministry, we wrap up our 2019-2020 Upward Basketball season. Over the last 3 months, our church had the great opportunity to host another phenomenal season. This season, more than 230 families got the opportunity to experience the love of Jesus through Saturday game days, mid-practice devotions, and Christ-like examples of our amazing volunteers! I am so thankful for every coach, parent and volunteer who supported this ministry. This basketball program would never be possible without the sacrifice of our faithful volunteer team. We look forward to how God continues to use the impact of these servants in the lives of our players for years to come!

As usual, when one thing comes to a close, God has something new on the horizon. I believe God is going to do great things in the lives of our Middle and High School students during OverFlow Weekend. OverFlow Weekend is a discipleship weekend held February 7-9 and gives students the opportunity to dive deeper into their faith. This year we have the pleasure of Justin Warren leading us in worship, Bryan Narcisse will be preaching God's word and special guest Jared Hall will join us. It is an action-packed weekend where God is going to change lives! You do not want your student to miss it!

THE BLAME GAME

As we start a new decade, it's hard for me to believe that Morgan and I have been married almost 16 years. I know I married way over my head and I'm so thankful God chose her to come alongside me in life and in ministry. Over the years, we have learned a lot of good things and we have also learned some not so good things.

One of the things we learned really quickly was not to play the blame game. I would play this a lot and not only did I not win, but I hurt her in the process. Galatians 6:2-5 tells us to carry each other's burdens and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ. If anyone thinks they are something when they are not, they deceive themselves. Each one should test their own actions. Then, they can take pride in themselves alone, without comparing themselves to someone else, for each one should carry their own load. So often, early in our marriage, I would blame Morgan for something that I thought she should have done, when in reality, I should have helped her.

When we come alongside another person and get under a burden that's too heavy to carry, we imitate Jesus. When we place faith in Him and establish Him as the source of life, only then can we love and care for others. As I have always learned, two is better at lifting than one.

So, as we start a new year, strive to help carry more than adding to the burdens in your marriage, and just see all that God will bless you both with this year.

Stephen McNeill

#SHARELIGHT

Can you picture 65,000 eighteen to twenty-five-year olds gathered together at the new Mercedes Benz stadium in Atlanta for the Passion Conference on New Year's Eve to ring in the new year singing and praising Jesus? Well, it happened, and it was AWESOME! I mean when you think of all the other places college students could have been, and what they could have been doing, these students were shining a light for all of the world to see and hear. As I watched students raise their hands, sing with all they have, and jump around with such a free spirit, it gave me so much hope for a generation that can impact this world with the love of Jesus.

It may look different from what you and I are accustomed to, but seeing all these students passionate about shining a light and living for Jesus is contagious. Tim Tebow said it best, "Could you imagine if 65,000 students said we're going to count the cost, and it doesn't matter the cost, because we're all in." All in on spreading the name of Jesus and what it means to have a personal relationship with Him. Jesus changes everything, and at the start of 2020, He can help you turn the page in your life. Maybe you feel stuck and ashamed of your past...Jesus can change all of that. All you have to do is ask, turn from those ways, and receive His amazing love and forgiveness.

Once that happens, you will be a light for all the world to see. You then must find that one who needs Jesus and begin to share that truth with them. In a time where we believe this generation just doesn't get it, I truly believe He is using this generation of students to share light on their campuses, work places, in relationships, and with the world.

There's nothing that our God can't do. There's not a mountain that He can't move.

Keep shining, students!

ALLOWING GOD TO USE YOU

One of my all-time favorite images is of Jesus going after the one. When I hear the song, "Reckless Love" by Cory Asbury, I picture Jesus leaving the 99 to desperately find the one. I don't know if my story has shaped how this picture affects me; the more I think about it the more I realize that it must. I was an atheist until I was 22 years old. The Lord not only changed my heart, but He radically changed my life. This picture of Jesus going after the one is my own personal story, I was the one! I've been able to see how the Lord orchestrated every single little detail of my story of redemption. We see this picture in Luke chapter 15 in the parables of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the lost son. The pursuit of our hearts is active. Not passive as if it just happens by accident, but an active pursuit of our hearts.

When I think about how much the Lord loves us, that He would not only send His son to take on the burden of our sins so that we can live in relationship with Him, but that He desires to use us here on this side of eternity for His glory. Can you wrap your mind around that? The God of creation, of heaven and earth and all that is in it, wants to use us!

One way He uses us here on this earth is through our story. Sharing our story, sharing how the Lord has changed our lives, can be an opportunity to open the door for sharing the gospel. Our lives are not our own, they are to shine the light on Jesus. I want to encourage you this month to begin sharing who Jesus is to you. It doesn't have to be in any extravagant way, just begin. If you can't figure out how to begin, pray for an opportunity and watch the Lord give it to you. Your story is beautiful, allow Him to use it for His glory!

HIS LOVE WILL NEVER FADE

One of the greatest weapons of the Enemy to try and rob us of our joy is loneliness. Do you ever feel lonely? Please rebuke that attack, because as a child of God that feeling is a lie. And it is just that—a feeling, not a reality. When you ask Jesus into your heart in repentance of your sins, He comes into you and will never leave you nor forsake you. Read what David wrote when he came under this kind of attack:

"Hear my cry, O God, listen to my prayer; from the end of the earth I call to you when my heart is faint! Lead me to the rock that is higher than I, for you have been my refuge, a strong tower against the enemy. Let me dwell in your tent forever! Let me take refuge under the shelter of your wings!" Psalm 61:1–4 ESV

Personally, I don't believe we should tattoo our bodies. But, has your name ever been tattooed onto somebody because they loved you? Well, the person who did that may have left you or developed tattoo regret because their love for you faded away. God loves you and will never have tattoo regret! Oh? You didn't know God has a "tattoo" of you? Isaiah 49:16 says:
"Behold, I have inscribed you on the palms of My hands; your walls are ever before Me."

A LOOK INTO OUR GENERAL BUDGET

As I write this article, we are in the final stages of closing our books for the year 2019. I'm excited to report that through the faithful giving of our church, we ended the year in a positive cash flow! So, what does that mean exactly? Our management staff and committees were able to work together to curb spending in 2019 to align with the amount of money coming in to the church. It also means that God provided everything that we needed (and more) in 2019 to run our ministries. Join me in praising the Lord for this news!!

As we go into the year 2020, our church has approved, through numerous committees and a vote of our congregation, a General Budget of $3,778,429. Our 2020 budget was brought down by over $160k from the 2019 budget. As a staff, we have vetted many of our vendor relationships and contracts to make sure that we are truly getting our money's worth and being a good steward of all that God has given to us. Getting more for less is very exciting to me! We have an opportunity to make that money go further towards spreading the gospel!

As a reminder, a gift to our General Budget supports MANY different things here at LBC. Every dollar you give to the General Budget supports: Missions, Personnel, Ministries, Operations and Builders of the Kingdom. Below is a breakdown of the percentages for each section of our General Budget.

Missions: 10%
Personnel: 46.72%
Ministries: 16.47%
Operations: 19.45%
Builders of the Kingdom: 7.36%

I hope you are as excited as I am to see what God does in 2020!

PREPARING FOR LAUNCH

Launch day is coming. I had a cousin who was a part of, and commanded, 3 different missions to space with NASA. Two of the missions were for satellite placement and one where he spent 129 days in orbit on the International Space Station. He told us about all the preparation they went through as astronauts to leave earth's orbit. It was incredible the lengths they went through in training to be prepared for launch day. It wasn't just the astronauts that went through training either. There were so many layers of preparation for the space shuttle, the launch site, and the re-entry after the mission was over.

Launch Day is coming in West Columbia, too. But we aren't launching a space shuttle, we are re-launching a church.

LAUNCH DAY 2020 IS EASTER, APRIL 12

The church we launch will be a church that impacts the community with the gospel. It will be a church that is founded on prayer and making disciples. It will be a church that brings life to the community in a new way. And just like the launch of a space shuttle, there are many layers of preparation to have a successful launch and on-going ministry through FBC West Columbia.

LAUNCH TEAM NEEDS

There have been about 20 adults who have attended our Launch Team Interest Meetings, and we are looking for more young families to add to this team. Our current ages range from 23-75. With the average age in West Columbia being 36, we are praying for God to add about 6 more families in their 20's, 30's, and 40's to our team. We want life-giving believers who want to reach West Columbia and who want to serve in our ministries: greeters, ushers, Next Gen (preschool, elementary, preteen, students), college, Sunday school, small groups in homes, worship, media, etc. Be in prayer about your involvement in our launch and ministry in West Columbia. And be in prayer for this team as we prepare for Launch Day.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

1. Pray
2. Join the Launch Team
3. Attend Service at FBC West Columbia- Sundays at 11am
4. Invite others to join the Launch Team

If you are interested in the Launch Team, please email me at seth@lexingtonbaptist.org or call the church office at 803.359.4146.

Blessings,

MISSIONS FOCUS MONTH

The month of February is our annual Missions Emphasis month here at LBC. What does that mean? Here at LBC, our vision is to make disciples of Jesus Christ here in Lexington and around the world. Here and around the world – that means Locally, Nationally and Internationally. Having that as a vision means all we do here at LBC must facilitate that vision. Add that to the belief that we have that everyone has a right to hear about Jesus and have the opportunity to give their lives to Him and you begin to see why we have the annual Missions Emphasis! In the Mission Office, we do that by providing opportunities for each and every member of LBC to be involved in this vision, whether it is a local outreach, a national outreach or an international outreach. Our Mission Emphasis sets aside three weeks in February to highlight ways this is done and to give people the opportunity to be a part of one of these mission outreaches.

Sunday, February 9 is our Local emphasis. That week we will have about 17 booths in the foyer just outside our worship center. Each of these booths represents a Mission's Ministry your LBC Global Mission Dollars support in some way. There will be people at these booths that can explain about the ministry they are a part of and how you can be a part as well whether that is to have hands-on ministry or become a great prayer supporter for that ministry. Also, each week we will have our 2020 Missions T-shirt available for all who want one.

Sunday, February 16 is our National emphasis. This week we host our Church Planters and Mission partners throughout the nation that we support and work with. We will have our Brooklyn Planters, our Portland Planters and Church Planters from Florida where we will be sending a group to work with this summer. We will also have our North Carolina partners who work with Central Asia. These partners who will be at booths that Sunday can help you better understand and gain a vision for where our Missions funds go and how they are used. There will be a free luncheon to further connect with these folks following the second worship service. It will also inspire some to be on one of the Missions trips to Brooklyn, Portland or Florida. Did I mention already – T-shirts?

Sunday, February 23 is our International emphasis. This week we will have our Mission partners from Southeast Asia, some from Peru, some from Nicaragua, some from Canada, some from Honduras and some from Central Asia. Again, these are folks we either partner with in our Missions giving or where we are sending a Mission team to work with this summer. I know you will want to find out what is going on in each area and how you can personally partner and pray for their work and maybe even sign up to head there on a Mission trip. We will also have a free luncheon following our second morning worship service in order to give you the opportunity to connect with these folks again. And again, did I mention Missions T-shirts?

It is our desire that we all come away from the month of February thankful for the many Mission opportunities we have at LBC, thankful for the Mission dollars given and how we can use it and be thankful to God that in His wisdom, He invited us to be a part of His Kingdom activity. A bonus of the month: we hope will be that you too begin to believe, EVERYONE HAS A RIGHT TO HEAR!

14 Thanks for letting me lead LBC in Missions.

EQUIPPING MINISTRY

Helping you to become fully devoted disciples of Jesus

JESUS FORGIVES. SO SHOULD WE.

Paul Dyer lived what most outside onlookers believed to be the perfect life. He was married to Marci, had three kids and they lived in the upscale part of town. He was a deacon in his church, taught Bible study, and served in the nursery on occasion. He drove a nice car and wore designer labeled suits. He was a project engineer and had become a very successful leader at the company he worked for. He was faithful to his employer, almost to a fault, and most days he worked way past quitting time. Paul was task oriented and never felt like he could leave things undone. This put a major strain on his marriage and left him missing many of his kids' school and sports activities. Work was his life and for the most part, work was the real relationship he was in. Over and over his wife would tell him his behavior was unacceptable and their marriage was falling apart. Paul ignored the warnings, and so one day he arrived home and found his wife, their three kids and the family dog gone. He picked up his cell and called his wife, no answer. He walked next door to the Alexanders and asked them if they had talked to his wife or his kids. Mr. Alexander handed Paul an envelope and said, "your wife asked me to give this to you if you came asking about them." Paul took the envelope and as he walked away, he tore it open and read how devastated his wife had become over their failed marriage. She wanted a husband, a man that wanted to come home from work on time, a man that wanted to spend time with her and the kids, not someone so engulfed in his career he forgot what their relationship was supposed to look like.

Paul spent weeks trying to convince his wife to come home but was only able to convince her to meet him at a restaurant for dinner. When Marci arrived, she was surprised to see Paul already seated in the restaurant. In the past when they would meet for dinner Paul would be late because he was "caught-up at work." Paul greeted Marci with a loving hug and professed his love for her, begging her to forgive him, promising her he would make her and their family his only priority. As he talked, Marci remembered Colossians 3:13 which says, "Bear with each other and forgive one another if any has a grievance against someone. Forgive as the Lord forgave you." Marci and the kids, along with the dog, moved back home and Paul kept his promise. Forgiveness can be hard for us to give to other people. Just remember Jesus forgave us and we should follow his lead.
