From the Pastor

I'm doing one of my favorite things through the first few weeks of the new year—reading a book of the Bible (the gospel of John) with someone who's seeking the Lord. The person is a young immigrant, a brilliant young graduate student who's finishing up an advanced degree at our local university. He's been coming to our church lately and took the initiative of asking to meet with me.

We'll read a chapter or three then talk. Just that. No preaching (not an easy thing for a preacher), no academic lectures, little theology. Just the Word of God speaking into our hearts. I've been following this pattern for years and have learned that God can speak for himself better than I can, so I try to guide our conversations so that my new friend can listen to what God is saying. My prayer in all these conversations is that the people I meet with will come to a personal faith in Jesus. They often do.

There are many other ways to share faith, of course. And that's why we're focusing in 2020 on "For the One," a challenge to all our church family taken from the parable of the lost sheep in Luke 15:4 which calls us to "go after the one who is lost." That means to find creative and effective ways to invite others into a saving relationship with Jesus and a meaningful connection with His church. Who's in your life right now that needs to hear the good news of the gospel—what family member, friend or neighbor who needs to hear about Jesus?

Let's make a different kind of New Year's resolution this year. Instead of focusing on our own desires, needs or opportunities, why don't we focus on the spiritual lostness of the people around us? Why don't we decide at the very first part of this year to pull our testimony out of hiding and be more forthcoming about sharing it with the people around us?

I'm excited about Sunday mornings to start the new year. Through the month of January, I'll be preaching a sermon series called, "Restored: How God Brings Your Life into Alignment with His Will." I believe these messages will be an encouragement to many, so I hope you'll plan on being here and bringing someone with you who needs to hear!

For my Refresh Bible study on Wednesday nights in January I'll be leading a special teaching on "Heart Healthy"—a series on the central role the heart plays in our relationship with Jesus and how important it is for us to guard our hearts for Him alone.

Finally, our next Lunch with the Pastor is Sunday, January 26 following the second service. If you or someone you know wants more information about the awesome things the Lord is doing here at LBC, go to our website and register (the lunch is free and there's free child care). We'd love for you to come!

See you Sunday!
Pastor Mike

JESUS CAN DO IT ALL!

It's time for a Beach Party – sand, sun, and a whole lot of fun! Jesus spent a great deal of time on or near the beach. In fact, He performed MANY miracles near the water. So, the beach is the perfect environment for our preschoolers to learn that Jesus can do anything.

Our preschoolers learned that God gave us Jesus in December, and now they will learn that because Jesus is God's Son, He can do anything! With God all things are possible! Throughout their lives, children will encounter things they can't do. But, in Jesus, they have a friend who can do it all. There is no better friend than Jesus, and He wants to be our friend forever.

Memory Verse:
"With God all things are possible."
MATTHEW 19:26, NIV

Bottom Line:
Jesus can do anything.

FOR PRESCHOOLERS

Week 1: Water to Wine

John 2:1-11

Jesus can do anything.

Week 2: Catching Fish

Luke 5:1-7

Jesus can do things we can't.

Week 3: Feeding 5,000

Mark 6:31-44

Nothing is too hard for Jesus.

Week 4: Walking on Water

Matthew 14:22-33

Jesus can do what is impossible.

DISCOVERING GOD

I remember my very first LBC staff retreat 8 years ago – we played an intense and riveting game of trivia our first night. If you ever find yourself on an LBC staff retreat, by the way, always demand to be on Pastor Mike Turner's or Pastor Dan William's teams. Their minds are full of the most obscure facts about history, pop culture, and music. It was truly unfair to the rest of us. Despite where we fall on this imaginary scale of trivia knowledge as adults, kids seem to have this intense longing to know ALL. THE. THINGS. In fact, I read a report recently that said kids ask about 300 questions per day.

Think about it – around a kid's 4th birthday, a switch goes off and they start asking, "Why?" They begin to string together their questions in an attempt to know about and understand everything around them. Our kids show us that we're wired, as humans, with a natural curiosity to know what we don't know and go where we haven't been. God made us this way. It's amazing – he made us to discover, wonder, explore, innovate, improve, and solve; He wants us to use those desires to know Him more.

This month, we are inviting kids into the story of the really big God – a God bigger than their imaginations, explanations, and understanding. But God desires for us to spend our lifetime discovering who He is and how much He loves us.

KEEP A WEATHERED EYE

Recently, I had the great opportunity to introduce my wife to one of my favorite film series, Pirates of the Caribbean. The nonstop action coupled with the cunning genius of Captain Jack Sparrow keeps me glued to the television every time I see it. However, I recently noticed a phrase in the film that I had never paid much attention to. Throughout the film, numerous characters use the term "keep a weathered eye on the horizon." It is a phrase that signals something big is about to happen, and an eager anticipation as you await the unknown that is before you. It leads to the expectation that you do not want to miss what is coming.

This is my feeling as we head into the year 2020. I am keeping my eye on the future of exciting things coming up in our preteen, middle school and recreation ministries. God is going to do something massive in and through our ministries this next year! We do not know what exactly that will be, but we can be confident that it will be life-changing. So, we look forward, pray, and continue to seek God's direction for 2020. I hope that you will join us in prayer and anticipation as we experience what God has for us this year!

NOT JUST 9-5!

Great marriages just don't happen, they take work! My wife Morgan is awesome, but it takes work in order for us to get along, and for our marriage to be successful. I find it amazing how couples will work really hard at being their best with their jobs. They work really hard at being the best friend and family member they can be. They work really hard at eating right and exercising. They work extremely hard at being the best parent possible and then at the end of the day, when the tank is empty, they have nothing left for their spouse. That has to change! The spousal relationship with each other is the second most important relationship they can have, behind their relationship with Jesus. That takes work!

Ted Cunningham shared something with couples when he was here that I'll never forget. He said, "everybody falls in love with the front end of the puppy. We fall in love with the front end of the puppy, but every puppy has a back end. Every marriage has a back-end story of struggle, pain, frustration, trials, and disagreements." They all take work and lots of prayer to get through. Praying for you as a couple to have the best year yet.

Stephen McNeill

LOVE+TIME = WORTH

As we start a new year, I want to challenge you as I have challenged myself to love better. We have become a society of families who stay too busy, worry too much, and love less.

I truly believe one of the best ways for us to love better is to affirm more and to encourage people to pursue all that God has for them. It's not that we push people to do what we want, but for us to love them where they are, but care way too much to leave them there. That means we must be willing to spend time together, even when we must adjust the schedules of life.

As 2020 gets rolling, love + time = worth is something we all need to look at. Who is that one person you can love better? Who is that one person you can spend more time with? Who is the one person that doing both of these with them in 2020 will impact the most? People don't need more critiques; they need us to show more interest. Listen more this year than you advise. Journey with them more than you plan for them. Trust more than you have suspicion. Believe the best about them and pray more that God will do something in and through them.

Let's Talk About Sex

Here we are, it's the new year. 2019 has come and gone and we are ready to see the Lord do amazing things in this new year. You may be thinking that I'm getting ready to write about New Year's resolutions - you know the time when we get really excited to change something, but then only stay on track until about February. Yeah, I've been there, too. But actually, I'm not going to write about that at all. I will, however, tell you how excited I am about our new Wednesday night series starting on January 8 called Mom Talk. As a mother of all daughters, it's so important to me to join with other moms, to talk and learn from one another as we walk this parenting journey together. Parenting can be hard - and parenting daughters can be even harder at times - but as we seek the Lord together, with transparency and humble hearts, I believe the Lord has such beautiful wisdom to share with us as we do the best job we can parenting the children He has so graciously loaned us. As we dive into this 8-week series called "Mom Talk", we'll be covering some topics that will help us strengthen mother/daughter relationships through all stages of life, no matter where you are in the journey. If you are a mother of boys but you are interested in joining us, please know I believe this is for you, too. If you have any questions about this Mom Talk series, please email me at crystal@lexingtonbaptist.org. I can't wait to see what the Lord does at LBC in 2020, I'm so grateful to be on this journey alongside of all of you!

2020 VISION IN 2020!

2020 is going to be a great year for Sr. Adults at LBC! I am looking forward to the growth that I believe God has in store for us this year. I am praying for God to pour out his blessings upon this ever-growing area of Sr. Adult ministry in Lexington. SC ranks #4 in the top 10 places to retire behind #1 Florida, #2 Arizona, and #3 North Carolina. The total population of Lexington County is 262,391. 34,385 of those are 55 and older. In Lexington Baptist, we have 998 members over 55. Wouldn't it be wonderful to see more love among the brethren? Wouldn't it be awesome to see lost Sr. Adults who don't know the Savior come to Christ in repentance and then be baptized? Let's have 2020 vision in 2020! Acts 20:20 "You know that I have not hesitated to preach anything that would be helpful to you but have taught you publicly and from house to house."

OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND...

Picture this...I was in the middle of our Upward basketball practice at a time when the coach (me) was supposed to share about Jesus. In the midst of a discussion with the girls on my team, I used the word "devotional." I got a few scrunched up faces immediately followed by the question: "Devotional? What's that?!" Well, I had to describe what a devotional was to a handful of girls in 4th to 6th grade. Some knew, but some didn't. We talked about how our basketball practices are about getting a game plan together and learning how to use it in a real game. A devotional (and reading the bible) is the same thing. God has the game plan already created – we just have to learn how to use it in real life. Sometimes we do well with the game plan, other times we make mistakes.

Well, after that practice I thought, how could one possibly listen to a group of girls not know what a devotional was and then just not do anything about it?! I talked with our Children's Ministry Director, Maegan, and asked her what devotional would be good for girls in 4th to 6th grade. After getting her recommendation, I was approved to purchase 8 devotional books through our Discipleship Ministry. I picked verses and wrote a little something in each one and was able to give those girls, in some cases, their very first devotional book!

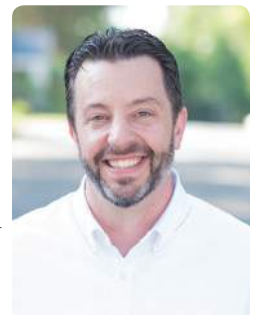

The point I'm trying to make is through the ministries of this church there was:

- An opportunity to invite people into the church through Upward
- An opportunity to serve
- An opportunity to build relationships
- An opportunity to share about Jesus
- An opportunity to put the word of God in people's hands
- And now....the opportunity to disciple

God has used the ministries of this church to present us with opportunities. As we start the new year, please pray about how you can invest in the ministries that we have at LBC.

A NEW YEAR BRINGS A NEW FOCUS

January brings with it the start of a new year. This time of year brings about a new focus in life. With this new year being 2020, I feel that God is bringing a new movement of the Holy Spirit in West Columbia. As Pastor Mike quoted at the Celebration Worship night, "This is the end of the beginning." We have been in the beginning stages of ministry with FBC West Columbia, but the beginning has ended. We are now focused on replanting and seeing a new move of God through FBC West Columbia.

This new year brings an excitement of people, far from God, whose lives will be forever changed because of Jesus. It brings an excitement of marriages saved and restored. It brings an excitement of kids, students, and college students who will be empowered to live out their faith in a new way. It brings an excitement for families who will see God change their home and call them to be on mission with God in a way they have never seen. It brings an excitement for people to follow Jesus in baptism.

This excitement is tangible at FBC West Columbia. There has been a fire lit in people's lives because these two churches are now entering a season of ministry together. And we want you to be a part of it.

January brings opportunities to join in this new ministry. There are spots open in ministry here for parking lot team, greeters, ushers, small group leaders, Sunday School leaders, children and preschool leaders, student ministry leaders, college ministry leaders, worship team leaders, media team leaders, and local mission opportunities in West Columbia.

What role is God calling you to play in this new ministry?

Please mark your calendar and plan to join us for our LBC Launch Team meetings in January. We will be discussing what ministry will look like in West Columbia. We will be talking about the vision God has given for FBC and what that will look like in our ministries there.

We will meet in the LBC Conference Room at 6:30pm on the following days:

Sunday, January 5

Wednesday, January 15

Sunday, January 26

Please join us for worship at 11:00am on Sunday mornings at FBCWC any time you can. God has brought these two churches together to do a new work in West Columbia. Come be a part of what God is doing there!

Blessings,

LOOKING TOWARD 2020

2020 – It is difficult to even type those words. When I was a kid, to think of the year 2020 seemed so far out in the future, it could never be attained and yet here it is. It holds such excitement with all we know God has in store for LBC in this new year. On the Missions front, there are Mission trips and Mission outreaches. There are opportunities for you to be involved in Missions whether that is locally, nationally or internationally. If you have not yet taken the step towards being involved in Missions on any level, maybe this is your year. I might encourage you to ask God what level of involvement He might have you participate in this year. As a testimony of one – my life has never been the same since my first dip in the Missions pool. I am so thankful for all God has allowed me to experience regarding Missions. I don't want you to miss out on an amazing blessing God has in store for you. To help you in this venture, please remember next month we will have our annual Missions Emphasis. We will spend three Sundays in February, each Sunday with a different emphasis, highlighting mission ministries and opportunities. Sunday, February 9, we will be highlighting our Local Mission opportunities. Each of the ministries that are listed as a budgeted item in our Global Missions Office will have a booth in our atrium area just outside of the worship center. Those booths allow you to see how your Missions dollars are used, but also, they will let you see how you can be a part of that mission's outreach. Then, Sunday, February 16, we will be highlighting our National Missions outreach. We will have our Church planters come in from their locations to share and to show all God is doing and how you can partner with them. They too will have a booth in the atrium. Then, on our final Sunday, February 23, we will have our International emphasis. These will include those we support on an ongoing basis and those whom we will be sending Mission teams to work with. And as always, we will have a new T-shirt available. I love seeing our Mission t-shirts all over town. Yes, another way the word gets spread that "Everyone has a right to hear." I was reminded last year on our first week of the Missions emphasis when a Senior Adult lady came to me and asked if she could get a t-shirt. She said, "I wear it when I walk at the mall." What she said next touched me. She said, "Because, Mark, I really do believe everyone has a right to hear." She got it! She used the t-shirt as an opportunity to share Jesus with folks. That is missions at work! So, mark your calendar for our Missions Emphasis.

Now that the month of December is over, I want to thank all of you who participated in Operation Christmas Child. I especially want to thank Katelyn Foxworth, our OCC LBC coordinator. Katelyn did a superb job in organizing and securing volunteers. Lexington Baptist contributed over 600 OCC boxes and as a collection center, LBC received over 16,000 boxes from around Lexington County and filled three tractor trailers full. Thanks Katelyn!

Lastly, thanks to all those who provided a Prison Packet for the inmates of SC. Our Prison Ministry sponsors this each year. This year we collected over 300 Prisoner Packets. Praise the Lord! Thanks to our Prison Ministry and all who provided a packet.

As always, thank you for allowing me to lead missions at LBC. It is such a joy and remember, everyone does have a right to hear.

EQUIPPING MINISTRY

Helping you to become fully-devoted disciples of Jesus

FOR THE ONE

A staff member recently shared this story with me...

"When I was a Junior in High School, I invited this shy little Freshman clarinet player to orchestra rehearsal at LBC. I knew she and her family were atheists, so it was a longshot at best, but surprisingly she said she'd try it out. That first night, our orchestra family welcomed her with open arms, got her settled in the groove really quick and made her feel like she was right where she belonged. When she first started, she agreed to try Wednesday nights only, but sure enough after a few weeks she started showing up for Sunday worship too! She'd attend the Worship Leaders Sunday School class with us, and her curious mind led her to join a Bible Study through a member of our church. Fast forward a couple of years, and the same quiet, religion-less girl that I invited on a whim to orchestra rehearsal was standing before me in Sunday School sharing her testimony on how a simple invitation to church gave her a fire for Jesus that changed her entire life. Tears streaming down her face – and mine (not a good day to wear mascara) – she announced that she had accepted Christ and was to be baptized in church in front of her friends and family. I know that fire never left her because later in college she would become the President of a prominent Christian organization on campus."

As we come into this new year, I challenge every one of us to reach out to that one person. Invite them to Sunday worship with you. Invite them to serve with you. Flip through the pages of this Signal and pick from the countless Bible Studies, activities and Wednesday night classes to invite them to. If everyone will "go after the one who is lost" (Luke 15:4), soon we'll all have our own stories of new brothers and sisters in Christ. What a glorious day that will be!

PRISCILLA SHIRER

The Armor of God

"The Armor of God" Women's Study

Join women of all ages in January for Priscilla Shirer's in-depth Bible study "The Armor of God." All day, every day, an invisible war rages around you - unseen, unheard, yet felt throughout every aspect of your life. A devoted, devilish enemy seeks to wreak havoc on everything that matters to you: your heart, your mind, your marriage, your children, your relationships, your resilience, your dreams, your destiny. But his battle plan depends on catching you unaware and unarmed. If you're tired of being pushed around and caught with your guard down, this study is for you. The Enemy always fails miserably when he meets a woman dressed for the occasion. The Armor of God, more than merely a biblical description of the believer's inventory, is an action plan for putting it on and developing a personalized strategy to secure victory.

This seven-session study will meet on Tuesday mornings beginning January 14 in room 201 at 10:00am. Workbooks will be available for purchase in class for $15. Wee Care is available. For more information or to register, please contact Heidi Hoffman at heidih@sc.rr.com.
