Searching the OPAC (Online Public Access Catalog)

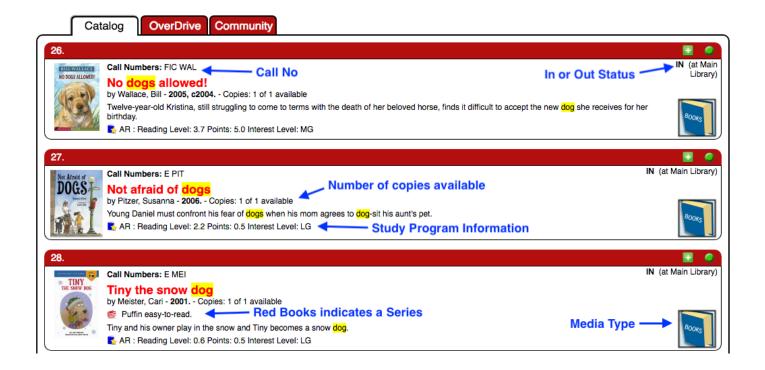

To perform a basic search for an item in the online catalog (OPAC), type any keyword, title, author, subject, or series title in the box in the upper left corner and click the GO button.

Click on the Expert, Combo or Media buttons for more advanced searching options.

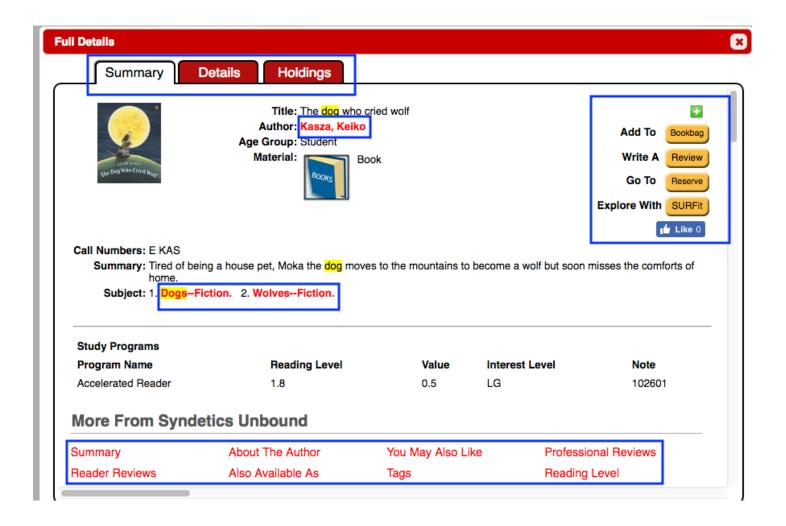

The list of Results appears. You can see whether an item is currently IN or OUT by looking at the far right of each entry.

The Call # is shown and if available in the item record, a summary is displayed. Study Program information is indicated by a BLUE book with a YELLOW star, and a stack of RED books indicates the item is part of a series.

When you see the results, click on any item title in RED to look at more information about that item.

The Full Details Window Opens.

Any text in RED is a link to additional information. For example, click on the author to bring up more search results for additional items by this author. Click on the Subject Headings in RED to perform A search for that subject. If your library subscribes to "Unbound," scroll down to find additional resources and information pertaining to your search.

Use the Buttons on the right to perform a reserve, add the item to a bookbag (list), or write a review. You will be required to log-in to your OPAC account to complete any of these functions.

Use the Details and Holdings tab for more information about the item.

If you need additional help with searching, be sure to ask your library assistant.
