Casting Our Bread Upon the Waters

In July, Costa Maya Ministries continued community assistance with weekly food rations of rice, beans, corn flour, oil. We were able to intersperse donations of fishing line and baby chicks to those here in Mahahual to help provide them with a sustainable food source of protein. Gifts are always paired with written gospel messages to help people know the Giver of all gifts and the Savior of souls.

During our relief efforts, we enjoy making connections with locals like the guys at the store next door. Every week they help carry bulk packs of food to our kitchen. We like to share food bags with them, as well as with some of the church construction laborers. The village has come to know our church as a source of aid during this harsh economic climate. Some community members who are not able to cook are offered a hot meal at a low cost from a small food venue right next to church.

Church construction continues and we hope to occupy the new space by the end of this year or early next year. While coronavirus has caused hardship, it has also presented us with bountiful opportunities to help many in Christian love. We are joyful for this new rapport and relationship and pray it will carry over in the new church building. Thank you for making it all possible!

"Thanks for these wonderful updates. The children melt my heart and are so adorable and make me realize just how truly blessed we are here, without even realizing it most of the time. The church is coming along nicely and what a huge blessing. I feel like this mission is establishing so much beyond what we can even imagine as the area gets to learn about God's promises plus sees how you/the church are helping your neighbors. God's plans are better than our plans. Blessing upon blessing."
