

SOAP Daily Devotion – complements the sermon for 11.15.2020

Monday – 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

What habits in your life encourage ongoing conversation with God?

God, the Spirit, lives within you. Would the Spirit describe your interaction with him as ignoring and trivial, occasional and asking, or always aware and active. Why did you choose that one?

Tuesday – Psalm 46:1-3

How would knowing God as the “ever-present help in trouble” impact your prayer life?

The Psalmist describes mighty natural events that could cause someone to fear. What fearful threats in your world that God easily can handle would you put in a Psalm like this?

Wednesday – Psalm 23

How is Jesus following to you? Protector, Provider, Guide, Company, Comforter, Benefactor, Healer

Thursday – Ephesians 6:18-20

When are you most likely to pray for fellow Christians, brothers, and sisters in Christ?

What kinds of prayers and requests do you most often pray? How can you know if your prayers align with what the Spirit of God would want you to pray?

How can you remind yourself to pray throughout the day for courage for yourself and others to share Jesus?

Friday – 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

This will be the message text for one more Sunday. Please take a moment to read through it multiple times, emphasizing different phrases each time. This will help you memorize it.

When you think of being grateful in all circumstances, who comes to mind?

Does their life encourage you to develop ongoing gratitude in your life? In what ways?

How would your inner life be different if you were to be able to give thanks in all circumstances?
