The sermon is called Reboot Marriage: Serve One Another in Love

Every human relationship needs an occasional Reboot... When we hit a wall, we need a chance to start again, to reset, to clear certain memory in order to begin to work properly once again—and move forward. In a society where tenderness and compassion may seem to be forgotten qualities, Jesus invites His followers to be living examples of His love and kindness in our relationships with others. The best place to start is with our near ones, our family.
