

Our goal is to serve you, pastors, and make your life easier!

We have designed the graphics below, for the associated sermon, in such a way that they can be used for most standard printing, social media posting and projection, without being cropped awkwardly, or scaled to illegibility.

We have also drafted some suggested verbiage which you could use, not use, or customize, when marketing this teaching to your various communication's platforms. In the zipped file you downloaded you should find these images along with the actual fonts used to develop them.

FaceBook/Projection:

This graphic has been sized to the graphic specifications for FaceBook's Events, a 16:9 Ratio. This is also a standard size for projectors. Below, please find some suggested words for your social media posts as well.

Suggested copy:

Imagine for a moment: The Creator of the universe, the All-Powerful, sits down next to you, asks for a cup of water, and just wants to get to know you—yes, you!

Suggested usage:

Use this as the opening slide to your message, during your announcements, and post to your FB page.

Twitter:

This graphic has been sized to the graphic specifications for Twitter.

Suggested copy:

Imagine for a moment: The Creator of the universe, the All-Powerful, sits down next to you, asks for a cup of water, and just wants to get to know you—yes, you!

8.5" x 11" Paper - landscape:

This graphic has been sized to fit a Letter sized paper for normal printing.

Suggested usage:

Feel free to use this as a handout to advertise next week's sermon or on your bulletins to make them pop.

8.5" x 11" Paper - Portrait:

This graphic has been sized to fit a Letter sized paper for normal printing.

Suggested usage:

Feel free to use this as a handout to advertise next week's sermon or on your bulletins to make them pop.

