We have all seen it. We have driven by it countless times. But, what do you really know about it?

There is no one who knows more about the "Who, what, when, where, why, and how" than Larry Bell.

Don't miss this opportunity to learn about this local landmark.

Larry Bell, whose great-grandfather, John A. Bell, was the contractor who managed the conversion of Cassells to Santa Maria, and whose grandparents, Edward and Harriet Bell, were the camp's first caretakers.
