DISTANCE LEARNING AND LITERACY:

Building Readers and Writers

Join us for a session on using distance learning tools and techniques for building literacy into your instruction.

Effective teaching is effective teaching-no matter where it Occurs. Teach for engagement and impact in any setting

A free book will be given away at the webinar.

Let's admit it: the pandemic teaching of Spring 2020 was less about distance learning and more about crisis teaching. But if we start now, we can prepare for distance learning in the future with purpose and intent- all the while maintaining an indelible focus on equity.

This is your opportunity to start the planning, compliments of Doug Fisher, Nancy Frey, and John Hattie's all-new Distance Learning Playbook: With this book as your guide, you'll discover what works best in teaching, assessing, and planning in our online classroom . . . per 25+ years of Visible Learning research and evidence.
