

"NEW" OFFICERS

All the new officers are asked to stand around a table bearing a wreath with club flowers and a lit candle. As each officer is called upon, she is to take a candle and lite it from the center candle as the following is read:

CHAPLAIN:

Since you are our inspiration,
Chaplain is your designation.

REPORTER:

As our reporter, the camera's your sign,
Get news to the paper, and you will do fine.

HISTORIAN:

As the keeper of our history, Your works made known are no mystery.
Articles and pictures go in the scrapbook, so that everyone can take a closer look.

PARLIAMENTARIAN:

Business meetings make us smarter.
Help us with Roberts Rules of Order.

TREASURER:

Collecting money should be a pleasure,
That's your duty as the treasurer.
Paying the bills is another task.
Audit the books as the year past.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY:

Report correspondence to the club.
Sending notes is at the hub.

RECORDING SECRETARY:

All the minutes, you shall record.
Present a copy to the board.

PRESIDENT-ELECT:

As we near the top of the hill,
You're the one whose job is to fill.
Assist the president in all possible ways,
and you will leave her with happier days.

PRESIDENT:

As President-past, I send you my greetings,
It's your turn now to preside at the meetings.
As club head, you will lead us and guide us.
A new year of programs, you shall provide us.
So Many departments - education and art,
To work with club members, please have a good heart.
Committees, Conventions, another spring raffle;
I hereby present you with our club's gavel!

To all the officers, let your light shine. With you at the helm, the new year will be fine.
